Canadian Law Comments

- this firearm is normally Non-Restricted unless affected by the following conditions:

1) by combining a barrel from a licensed firearms manufacture that is less than 406mm (16.0") in length and a receiver/frame fitted with a pistol grip only, this firearm may be deemed a "handgun" and therefore "RESTRICTED" under the definition of "restricted firearm" in Part III/Firearms and Other Weapons of Section 84 (1) (a) of the Criminal Code of Canada.
- "handgun" means a firearm that is designed, altered or intended to be aimed and fired by the action of one hand, whether or not it has been redesigned or subsequently altered to be aimed and fired by the action of both hands.

2) "a firearm that is designed or adapted to be fired when reduced to a length of less than 660 mm by folding, telescoping or otherwise" and therefore "Restricted" under the definition of "restricted firearm" in Part III/Firearms and Other Weapons of Section 84 (1) (c) of the Criminal Code of Canada.

3) by combining a barrel that has been altered to less than 457mm (18.0") in length by a non-licensed firearms manufacturer (cottage industry, individual or gunsmith) regardless of whether the shotgun has a pistol grip or conventional stock, this firearm is "PROHIBITED" and subject to the definition of a "prohibited firearm" in Part III/Firearms and Other Weapons of Section 84 of the Criminal Code of Canada.
- "prohibited firearm" means a firearm that is adapted from a rifle or shotgun, whether by sawing, cutting or any other alteration, and that, as so adapted,
(i) is less than 660 mm in length, or
(ii) is 660mm or greater in length and has a barrel less than 457 mm in length.

Notes

Make

- "ARMY & NAVY" is usually marked on the barrel rib.

Model

- introduced circa 1880.
- "IMPROVED GOVERNMENT" does not appear on the firearm.
- features include: octagonal barrel; front hinged receiver/frame with fluted cylinder and automatic extractor; break open release button or lever located on the left side of the receiver/frame; removeable inspection plate on the left side of the receiver/frame; exposed spur hammer; single/double action trigger mechanism; checkered walnut birdshead grip with lanyard ring; fixed sights; blued or nickel plated finish.
- these revolvers may be seen with a variety of features that changed over time, as the Webley company introduced safety and mechanical improvements.
- early revolvers may show Pryse-style lockwork, with an additional sear release at the rear of the trigger guard, but will also have integral trigger guards that were formed as part of the receiver/frame casting; these revolvers will all have "Kaufmann"-style receiver/frames, with a detachable sideplate on the left side of the revolver.
- latching mechanisms also changed, ranging from an early "push-button" style on the left side, through a thumb-operated latch that operated a cross-bolt through the top-strap, to a "half-stirrup" style that was replaced by the classic Webley "stirrup" latch in 1889.
- similar to the Webley No 4 revolver.
- "MK" inside a triangle may be marked on the side of the receiver/frame.
- "MK" was the trademark of Michael Kaufmann.
- Michael Kaufmann was a firearms designer who was with Webley from 1878 to 1881.
- Michael Kaufmann's "MK" trademark ceased to be marked on the Webley Improved Government model circa 1885.

Manufacturer

- "WEBLEY'S PATENT" or "WEBLEY PATENT" is usually marked on the left side of the firearm.
- "P. Webley & Son / Webley & Scott" trademark logo of a "Winged Bullet" over "W&S" may be marked on the side of the firearm.
- the letters "MK" in a triangle above a number were observed marked on the right side of the receiver/frame.
- "MK" are the initials of the firearms designer, Michael Kaufmann and the number was used for royalty purposes.

Action

- hinged barrel design, top break action.

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Serial Number

- serial number is located on the left side of the back strap under the grip panel, it also appears on the underside of each grip panel and at the rear of the barrel lug below the cylinder axis pin hole.
- may also be seen with a number marked below the letters "MK" in a triangle on the right side of the reciever/frame; this number is a "royalty" number, and is not the serial number.

143799 - 1	14.4MM	1	1102	Antique CC 84(1) "antique firearm" para. (a)	Manufacturer Specifications and Commercial Customization

Notes

Make

- "ARNOLT" with a backwards "N" is marked on the side of the wheel-lock mechanism.

Model

- manufactured circa 1620.
- model designation is not marked on the firearm.
- Wheel-Lock firearms were originally manufactured in Europe during the 16th and 17th century.
- the system uses iron pyrites pressed against a revolving toothed wheel to provide the sparks for igniting the powder in the priming pan, which in turn ignites the main powder charge in the barrel. The toothed wheel is made to rotate, when the trigger was pulled, by a spring that was wound by a key in a similar fashion to a mechanical clock.
- features include: no front sight and parallel bars as a back sight; octagonal, smoothbore barrel; barrel is tapered and flared at the muzzle; under barrel mounted ram rod with horn tip; large wheel-lock action includes a safety catch; hinged trigger with elongated iron trigger guard with finger grooves; one piece walnut stock with extensive, engraved, bone inlays and storage compartments .
- overall length is 1386 mm (54 5/8").

Manufacturer

- "ARNOLT" with a backwards "N" is marked on the side of the wheel-lock mechanism.
- Christoph Arnold was located in Augsburg, Bavaria and operated between 1547 and 1573.

Action

- muzzle loading.

Other Markings

- the lockplate is marked "D I" around three stars over a crescent.
- a small mark, shaped like a pistol, and the letters "R R" over a shield, are marked on the barrel.

Notes

Make

- "ARWEN" is a trade name owned by Police Ordnance Company Inc.of Markam, Ontario, which, prior to 2001 was owned by Royal Ordnance Weapons and Munitions of Nottingham, England.
- the Arwen name is derived from "Anti Riot Weapon ENfield", the design of which was originally developed in 1977.

Model

- model "37" is marked on the firearm.
- this is an anti-riot, non-lethal weapon designed to shoot various gas and baton projectiles and utilizes a rotary magazine where each round is automatically indexed at top dead centre.
- features include: rifled barrel; fully ambidextrous manual safety; two finger position trigger; constructed of lightweight polymer and aluminum alloy materials; matte black or yellow finish; telescoping butt stock.
- there are two other variants of this model; the 37T (Tactical) fitted with a shorter barrel (185mm), and a shorter telescopic stock, and the 37S (Shorty) also with a 185mm barrel but has no butt stock.
- also available in a pistol version as the Arwen Ace-T and Arwen Ace-P.

Manufacturer

- "Police Ordnance Company Inc." is marked on the receiver/frame.
- the company is located in Markham, Ontario, Canada.
- in 2001, Police Ordnance purchased the Arwen trademark, patents, technical data and remaining inventory from Royal Ordnance Weapons and Munitions of England and subsequently began manufacturing this model in Canada.

Type

- anti-riot, less-lethal weapon: designed to shoot various gas and baton projectiles.

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Action	- does not discharge a projectile at a muzzle velocity exceeding 152.4 mps and/or muzzle a muzzle energy exceeding 5.7 Joules.
Serial Number	- the serial number is marked on the left side of the top strap. - all Canadian manufactured Arwen 37 models have serial numbers prefixed with a maple leaf emblem and have a letter "C" prefix followed by a 3000 series number. - serial numbers encountered other than in the 3000 numbered series would indicate manufacture prior to 2001 by Royal Ordnance Weapons and Munitions, UK.
Calibre	- 37MM ammunition with a rebated-rim case is not interchangeable with other 37MM riot control ammunition which has a rimmed cartridge case.
Other Markings	- "Made in Canada" and "Police Ordnance Company Inc." are marked on the receiver/frame.
Remarks	- referenced muzzle velocity using the fastest ammunition ("Barricade Penetrating Round") is 450fps.

Canadian Law Comments

- Discharges a projectile at a muzzle velocity exceeding 152.4 mps and a muzzle energy exceeding 5.7 Joules.
- This firearm may have left the factory equipped with a sound suppressor/silencer. The sound suppressor is subject to the definition of "Prohibited Device" in Section 84, Part III (Firearms and Other Weapons) of the Criminal Code of Canada.

- If the complete sound suppressor/silencer (prohibited device) is removed, the firearm is correctly identified as a "Non-Restricted Firearm". NOTE: removal of the internal components of the sound suppressor/silencer (prohibited device) is not sufficient to mitigate a prohibited classification. All components of the sound suppressor/silencer, including the device body, end caps, mounting hardware, all internal parts (baffles, screens, spacers, wipes, etc.), must be removed.
- This firearm, as it left the factory, is fitted with a "bull-pup" stock ("Prohibited Device" PDR, Part 4, Sec. 2). When the "bull-pup" stock ("Prohibited Device" PDR, Part 4, Sec. 2) is removed the receiver/frame/barrel assembly may be correctly classified as "Non-Restricted" or "Restricted".

Canadian Law Comments

- Discharges a projectile at a muzzle velocity exceeding 152.4 mps and a muzzle energy exceeding 5.7 Joules.
- This firearm may have left the factory equipped with a sound suppressor/silencer. The sound suppressor is subject to the definition of "Prohibited Device" in Section 84, Part III (Firearms and Other Weapons) of the Criminal Code of Canada.

- If the complete sound suppressor/silencer (prohibited device) is removed, the firearm is correctly identified as a "Restricted Firearm". NOTE: removal of the internal components of the sound suppressor/silencer (prohibited device) is not sufficient to mitigate a prohibited classification. All components of the sound suppressor/silencer, including the device body, end caps, mounting hardware, all internal parts (baffles, screens, spacers, wipes, etc.), must be removed.
- This firearm, as it left the factory, is fitted with a "bull-pup" stock ("Prohibited Device" PDR, Part 4, Sec. 2). When the "bull-pup" stock ("Prohibited Device" PDR, Part 4, Sec. 2) is removed the receiver/frame/barrel assembly may be correctly classified as "Non-Restricted" or "Restricted".

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Model

- the Model 200 went through four manufacturing changes from the time it was first introduced in 1920 to the time it was dropped in 1967 from the Astra line.
- FIRST VARIATION:
- model designation does not usually appear on the firearm, though "1924" (and other dates) may be found stamped on the slide.
- 1924 and other year dates are production year markings . In 1927 year coding proofs marks were used. See "Remarks" for the year codes.
- features include: curved slide serrations; with or without grip safety; sights consist of a sighting groove cut in the centre of the slide and top of slide is mill-out/dished-out to incorporate a loaded chamber indicator pin.
- SECOND VARIATION:
- model designation usually appears on the grip as "M200" and/or on the slide as "Mod 200".
- features include: curved slide gripping serrations; sights consist of a sighting groove cut in the centre of the slide; first of the "Model 200's" to be equipped with the triple safety feature, grip safety, thumb safety and magazine safety and top of slide is mill-out/dished-out to incorporate a loaded chamber indicator pin.
- THIRD VARIATION:
- model designation usually appears on the grip as "M200" and/or on the slide as "Mod 200".
- features include: curved slide gripping serrations; triple safety feature, grip safety, thumb safety and magazine safety; sights consist of a sighting groove cut in the center of the slide.
- the major change to the third variation is the slide. The loaded chamber indicator pin which was milled out on the top of the slide was dropped and replaced with one that protrudes from the rear.
- FOURTH VARIATION:
- known as the "200 Firecat"
- the major change to the fourth variation is the slide. The slide grip serrations were made straight and finer. Lightening cuts/scallops were made in the rear portion of the slide and rear and front sights were made to appear distinct by altering or removing the grooved rib between the two sights.

Manufacturer

- usually marked on the slide.

Action

- blowback operated.

- make may be marked on the left side of the slide as:
"ASTRA - UNCETA y Cia S.A. - Guernica".
- "Esperanza Y Unceta" officially registered the "Astra" name in November of 1914 (but it is seen on pistols produced prior to 1914).
- "Astra" is a trade name used on firearms produced by "Esperanza Y Unceta" circa 1914 - 1926 and "Unceta Y Compania S.A." since 1926 (also known as "Astra-Unceta Y Cia" since 1953).

Model

- model designation may not marked on the firearm.
- introduced in 1954.
- the model 2000 is similar to the model 200, however, the 2000 has an external hammer, no grip safety and a push button magazine release.
- features include: blued, chrome or gold finished receiver/frame and slide, exposed hammer, fixed front sight, rear sight may be adjustable, safety is located on the left side of the receiver/frame above the trigger, magazine release is located at the bottom of the left grip and the grips may be white, pearl, brown or black plastic with or without the Astra logo.
- this model evolved into and may be alternately known as the "Cub" as marked on the grip panels.

Manufacturer

- manufacturer's designation may be marked on the left side of the slide as:
"ASTRA - UNCETA y Cia S.A. - Guernica", and "MADE IN SPAIN".

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Action	- blowback operated.
Serial Number	- progressive numbers from 1954 to 1983. - in 1983 the serial number rationalization changed and the series started over again at A2002 to include a single letter prefix. - the serial number is marked on the right side of the receiver/frame and may also be marked on the right side of the slide.
Calibre	- calibre designation is normally marked on the left side of the slide. Example "Cal. .22"short". - for the 25 Auto, 6.35mm a conversion kit is available for 22 short ammunition.
Shots	- detachable box magazine.
Remarks	- This firearm started life as the "ASTRA" model "2000", made in Spain in calibre 22 SHORT. - It was then renamed the "ASTRA" model "CUB" for North American export/consumption in 1954. - In 1956 with a 102MM barrel length it became the "CAMPER". The "CAMPER" and "CUB" are identical except for a drift-adjustable rear sight on the "CAMPER" and the longer barrel on the "CAMPER". - In 1956 the "CUB" was introduced in a new calibre, 25 AUTO or 6.35MM. - In 1958 "ASTRA" started manufacturing the "CUB" as the "COLT" model "JUNIOR COLT" in both 22 SHORT & 25 AUTO. The USA Gun Control Act of 1968 put an end to the importation of the "COLT" model "JUNIOR COLT". - Post 1968, "Firearms International" had receiver/frames manufactured for them in the USA and imported parts from "ASTRA", assembling pistols which were sold as the "US MADE" "COLT AUTO" calibre 25 AUTO between 1970 and 1973 when Colt discontinued the model. - The tooling for the US manufactured receiver/frame was then sold to Firearms Import/Export (FIE) of Miami, Florida who subsequently assembled about 20,000 pistols in 25 AUTO calibre under the name of the FIE model "THE BEST" between 1980 and 1985. - As of 1999 the "ASTRA CUB" is manufactured in Spain under the ASTRA name only and is available only in 25 AUTO calibre. The 22 SHORT calibre having been discontinued in 1980.

Notes

Make

- the "ASTRA" logo is marked on the top of the slide and on the grip plates.
- "Esperanza Y Unceta" officially registered the "Astra" name in November of 1914 (but it is seen on pistols produced prior to 1914).
- "ASTRA" is a trade name used on firearms produced by "Esperanza Y Unceta" circa 1914 - 1926 and "Unceta Y Compania S.A." since 1926 (also known as "Astra-Unceta Y Cia" since 1953).

Model

- manufactured from 1923 to 1946.
- model designation is not usually marked on the top of the slide (earlier production were marked so units produced during the transition period from "Esperanza Y Unceta" to "Unceta Y Cia" may have the model designation and may also be marked with the year of manufacture).
- features include: blued finish was the standard for this model, special orders included chrome finish with or without engraving; fixed front and rear sights; magazine release is located on the lower left side of the grip; equipped with a thumb safety on the left side and a grip safety; two-piece hard rubber grips with the early "Astra" logo in the upper portion (special order guns have been noted with white or ivory coloured plastic grips with the "Astra" logo and address in gold foil).

Manufacturer

- "UNCETA Y COMPAÑIA S.A." and "GUERNICA ESPAÑA" are marked on the top of the slide.
- produced from 1926 to 1946 by "Unceta y Cia" (the successor to "Esperanza Y Unceta".
- also manufactured from 1923 to 1926 by "Esperanza Y Unceta".
- examples produced by "Esperanza Y Unceta" will be marked "ESPERANZA Y UNCETA" and "GUERNICA ESPAÑA".

Action

- blowback operated.

Serial Number

- serial number is usually located on the right rear of the receiver/frame, with the serial number repeated on the slide.
- serial number range and years of production for the "ASTRA Model 300" are:
- S/N 350,001 to 378,700 from 1923 to 1934 for 28,700 units (produced by "Esparanza Y Unceta" and "Unceta Y Cia");
- S/N 506,001 to 526,460 from 1934 to 1936 for 20,460 units (produced by "Unceta Y Cia"); and
- S/N 526,551 to 630,475 from 1937 to 1946 for 103, 925 units (produced by Unceta Y Cia").

Calibre

- a small number of conversion kits that included a barrel and cartridge inserts in 4MM were offered for this model.

Shots

- detachable box magazine.

Other Markings

- when the company was renamed "Unceta Y Cia" in 1926 the order was given to change the "Astra" logo markings found on the slide and grip panels, as many parts were still in inventory some pistols produced between 1926 and 1929 will be found with the earlier marking.
- typical German World War II procurement markings on the right side rear of receiver/frame:
(WaA 251).

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Remarks

- a quantity of the model 300 were used by the German "Condor Legion" (this was the unit that constituted the German aid to General Franco during the Spanish Civil War). Although Spain was a neutral country during World War II its sympathies lay with the Axis powers. As a result, 85,390 model 300's were procured by the German army between 1941 and 1944.
- the early (pre-1926) "Astra" logo incorporated the letter "E" in the top of the design and the letter "U" in the bottom of the design.
- the later (post-1926) "Astra" logo incorporated the letter "U" in the top of the design and the letter "C" in the bottom of the design.
- removing the grip panels may facilitate identifying units with no slide markings (or a receiver/frame only). Units produced after 1926 are usually stamped "UNCETA Y COMPAÑIA S.A." under the left grip panel along with the last few digits of the serial number.

Notes

Make

- the make is normally marked on the top of the barrel as, "ASTRA" and the grip panels may have the Astra logo.
- "Esperanza Y Unceta" officially registered the "Astra" name in November of 1914 (but it is seen on pistols produced prior to 1914).
- "ASTRA" is a trade name used on firearms produced by "Esperanza Y Unceta" circa 1914 - 1926 and "Unceta Y Compania S.A." since 1926 (also known as "Astra-Unceta Y Cia" since 1953).

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Model

- manufactured from 1926 to 1945 by the company "Unceta y Compania". Was previously manufactured from 1921 to 1926 by the company "Esperanza y Unceta"
- the model designation is normally marked on the top of the slide as, "MODELO 1921 (400)".
- may also be known as "Model 1921", which was the year it began production.
- this model is the commercial version of the "Model 1921".
- features include: single action; blued receiver/frame and barrel; the slide is round on the top; internal hammer; fixed sights; a grip safety; knurled muzzle; a thumb safety located on the left side of the receiver/frame; magazine release located on the butt of the grip or the left side of the grip at the butt and grip panels that may be checkered black rubber, brown plastic or wood.
- after the fall of France in 1940, stocks of these firearms which had been taken into French service were captured by the German forces and renamed 9MM Pistole (Astra) P 642 (f).

Manufacturer

- the manufacturer is normally marked on the top of the slide as, "UNCETA Y COMPANIA" over " GUERNICA ESPANA".
- in 1926 the company Esperanza y Unceta was dissolved leaving Sr. Rufino Unceta as the sole owner of the company. The company name was changed from "Esperanza y Unceta" to "Unceta y Compania" and the Astra logo was altered. The company changed hands in 1926, but the new altered logo and company name was not placed on the model 400 firearms until 1931.

Action

- blowback operated.

Serial Number

- the serial number is marked on the right side of the receiver/frame at the top of the grip.
- the serial number range is from approximately 43,000 to 105,275.

Calibre

- the calibre designation is normally marked on the top of the slide and on the barrel and visible through the ejection port. Example of a slide marking, "PISTOLA DE 9m/m (38)" and a barrel marking, "9m/m & 38".

Shots

- detachable box magazine.

Manufacturer

- "Astra-Unceta y Cia" was located in Guernica, Spain.

Action

- over and under barrel configuration.

Serial Number

- serial number rationalization is unknown.
- Spanish government instituted a new system for firearm's serial numbering in 1995.
- Spanish system incorporated the code number of the gunmaker/manufacturer, weapon code, serial number sequence, and year of manufacturer.
- Spanish serial number example is as follows: "31 - 03 - 1#0#1 - 95".
- serial number break down: the first two numbers (31) are the code numbers for the manufacturer, the next two numbers (03) are the code numbers for shotgun, the next numbers are the serial number sequence, and the last two numbers (95) are the year of manufacture.

Notes

Model

- "ASTRA-UNION" and "MODELO 1927" are marked on the firearm.
- this is a short-lived light machine gun that was adopted by the Spanish military in 1931, just prior to the Spanish Civil War; with the Civil War, the new government cancelled the existing contract for this machine gun, leaving somewhere around 30 of these machine guns actually being manufactured.
- features include: a generalized Hotchkiss 1922 LMG appearance, blued finish; cone flash-hider; open adjustable sights; light folding bipod on the gas tube; various barrel profiles (some finned); a thick wooden forearm and vertical wooden fore-grip below the strip-feed; and a straight-grip buttstock with an internal rate-reducer and a rear monopod.

Manufacturer

- "UNCETA y COMPANIA" is marked on the firearm.

Action

- gas-operated.

Serial Number

- serial-numbered on the receiver/frame.

Shots

- metallic strip-fed.

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Canadian Law Comments

- in the case of the firearms commonly known as the Fabrique Nationale, FN FAL, and any of the FN FAL variants, regardless of country of origin or manufacture; the component designated as the receiver/frame is that piece of forged and machined metal into which the barrel is threaded which contains the locking shoulder and is commonly known as the upper receiver/frame or body. The sheet metal fabrication known as the trigger mechanism housing or lower receiver/frame will be considered to have no significance to the registration process.

Other Markings

- Browning Arms Company Morgan Utah & Montreal P.Q. Patent, model number and Caliber .308 WIN ONLY (308 as an example only).

Remarks

- this model is a semi-automatic only version of the selective fire FN-FAL, hence the G designation.
- the firearm is commercial and was not a military re-work for commercial sale.

- "Esperanza Y Unceta" officially registered the "Astra" name in November of 1914 (but it is seen on pistols produced prior to 1914).
- "Astra" is a trade name used on firearms produced by "Esperanza Y Unceta" circa 1914 - 1926 and "Unceta Y Compania S.A." since 1926 (also known as "Astra-Unceta Y Cia" since 1953).

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Model

- may also be known as M5000 CONSTABLE, 5000 CONSTABLE, or CONSTABLE I.
- this Model was developed in the Model 5000 series along with CONSTABLE II, CONSTABLE SPORT, and MODEL 500. Although this series number is often referenced, it was not marked on the firearm.
- a number of design and mechanical changes were made during the first fifteen years of production. In order to avoid confusion when dealing with replacement parts, ASTRA began referring to the earlier Model as CONSTABLE I (which did not appear on the firearm) and designated the later Model as CONSTABLE II (which did appear on the firearm).
- the production of the calibre 22 LR began in 1965 and was discontinued in 1990.
- the production of the calibre 32 AUTO and 7.65MM began in 1965 and was discontinued in 1984.
- the production of the calibre 380 AUTO and 9MM BROWNING SHORT began in 1965.
- the model designation is normally marked on the left side of the receiver/frame and may be marked as, "CONSTABLE" or "MOD. CONSTABLE".
- this model resembles the Walther PPK.
- features include: double action, blued or chromed finished receiver/frame and barrel, exposed round hammer, fixed front sight with an adjustable rear sight, a safety located on the left side of the slide, serrations on the rear of the slide, the magazine release is located on the left of the grip, and the grip panels will vary from plastic to wood, with or without a thumb rest.

Manufacturer

- the manufacturer is normally marked on the left side of the slide and may be marked as on of the following;
- "ASTRA - UNCETA Y Cia. S.A." over "GUERNICA - SPAIN".
- "ASTRA - UNCETA Y Cia - GUERNICA (SPAIN)".

Action

- blowback operated.

Serial Number

- the serial number is marked on the right side of the receiver/frame above the trigger guard as sequential numbers.
- the serial number within the "Model 5000" series were numbered together. The serial numbering began at 940,001.

Model

- the model designation may be marked on the grip panel as "CUB" in an oval, scroll or on the left side of the slide as "MOD CUB".
- introduced in calibre 22 SHORT in 1954 and 25 AUTO/ 6.35MM in 1956.
- in 1956 the "CAMPER" was introduced. The "CAMPER" and "CUB" are identical except the "CAMPER" features a drift-adjustable rear sight, longer barrel and may be marked "CAMPER" on the grip panels.
- in 1958 "ASTRA" started manufacturing the "CUB" as the "COLT" model "JUNIOR COLT" in both 22 SHORT & 25 AUTO. The USA Gun Control Act of 1968 put an end to the importation of the "JUNIOR COLT".
- post 1968, "Firearms International" had receiver/frames manufactured for them in the USA and imported parts from "ASTRA", assembling pistols which were sold as the "US MADE" "COLT AUTO" calibre 25 AUTO between 1970 and 1973.
- the tooling for the US manufactured receiver/frame was then sold to Firearms Import / Export (FIE) of Miami, Florida who subsequently assembled about 20,000 pistols in 25 AUTO calibre under the name of the FIE model "THE BEST" between 1980 and 1985.
- as of 1999 the "ASTRA CUB" has been manufactured in Spain under the "ASTRA" name only and is available in 25 AUTO calibre. The 22 SHORT calibre was discontinued in 1980.
- features include: steel receiver/frame and slide; exposed hammer; fixed front sight; the rear sight may be adjustable; safety is located on the left side of the receiver/frame above the trigger; the magazine release is located at the bottom of the left grip and the grips may be white or black plastic marked with the "ASTRA" logo.
- also known as the "Cub 2000" when it has a blued finish; "Cub 2001" with a chrome finish; "Cub 2002" with a shallow engraved silver finish; "Cub 2002-CR" is shallow engraved with a chrome finish; "Cub 2003" with a deep engraved silver finish and "Cub 2004" featuring a gold "damascene" engraved finish.

Manufacturer

- the manufacturer will be marked on the left side of the slide.

Action

- blowback operated.

Serial Number

- serial number is marked on the right side of the receiver/frame.
- from 1954 to 1983 the serial number consisted of up to seven sequential numbers. In 1983 the serial number rationalization changed and the series started over again at A2002. One alpha character followed by four sequential numbers.

Calibre

- the calibre designation is normally marked on the left side of the slide.

Shots

- detachable box magazine.

Importer

- imported until 1992.

Canadian Law Comments

- this firearm is normally Non-Restricted unless affected by the following conditions:

1) by combining a barrel from a licensed firearms manufacture that is less than 406mm (16.0") in length and a receiver/frame fitted with a pistol grip only, this firearm may be deemed a "handgun" and therefore "RESTRICTED" under the definition of "restricted firearm" in Part III/Firearms and Other Weapons of Section 84 (1) (a) of the Criminal Code of Canada.
- "handgun" means a firearm that is designed, altered or intended to be aimed and fired by the action of one hand, whether or not it has been redesigned or subsequently altered to be aimed and fired by the action of both hands.

2) "a firearm that is designed or adapted to be fired when reduced to a length of less than 660 mm by folding, telescoping or otherwise" and therefore "Restricted" under the definition of "restricted firearm" in Part III/Firearms and Other Weapons of Section 84 (1) (c) of the Criminal Code of Canada.

3) by combining a barrel that has been altered to less than 457mm (18.0") in length by a non-licensed firearms manufacturer (cottage industry, individual or gunsmith) regardless of whether the shotgun has a pistol grip or conventional stock, this firearm is "PROHIBITED" and subject to the definition of a "prohibited firearm" in Part III/Firearms and Other Weapons of Section 84 of the Criminal Code of Canada.
- "prohibited firearm" means a firearm that is adapted from a rifle or shotgun, whether by sawing, cutting or any other alteration, and that, as so adapted,
(i) is less than 660 mm in length, or
(ii) is 660mm or greater in length and has a barrel less than 457 mm in length.

Notes

Make

- "Australian International Arms, Brisbane, Australia" will be marked on the firearm.

Model

- Australian International Arms builds a line of rifles known as the "M10" series. The "M10" is available in a wide variety of configurations where each version is given a unique model designation. The entire "M10" line is based on a newly manufactured, updated and modernized version of the Lee-Enfield No 4 Mark1*.
- the model designation is usually marked on the receiver/frame.
- features include: three-piece stock set made of Teak wood, buttstock features a semi pistol grip (resembles the original Lee-Enfield buttstock profile), forend features a single horizontal grasping groove (the forend extends past the upper handguard on this model); parkerized finish; top of receiver/frame is drilled and tapped for mounting a Picatinny rail; "L" type, dual aperture, flip up rear sight with a protected blade front sight mounted on the muzzle brake/flash suppressor; trigger mechanism is hung on the receiver/frame (in the same manner as the Lee-Enfield No 4 MARK 2 rifle); safety catch mounted on the left side of the receiver/frame; action "cocks" on closing of the bolt.

Manufacturer

- Australian International Arms manufactures a line of bolt action rifles based on the Lee-Enfield rifle design. Australian International Arms had a short lived association with Australian Defence Industries (operating the former Small Arms Factory, Lithgow) who were going to produce a reproduction of the Winchester model 1887 lever action shotgun. Less than 100 examples were built before the business arrangement was terminated.

Action

- turn-bolt design.

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Serial Number	- serial number is marked on the side of the receiver/frame. - samples examined have used an "M10A" prefix followed by a dash (-), followed by sequential numbers.
Barrel	- barrel length does not include the muzzle brake/flash suppressor.
Calibre	- the calibre was marked on the barrel of the sample examined as "7.62X39".
Shots	- detachable box magazine.
Importer	- the importer will usually be marked on the receiver/frame. - originally imported by Tristar Sporting Arms, in 2005 Sabre Defence Industries became the importer/distributor.
Canadian Law Comments	- at least two magazine designs in calibre 7.62X39 RUSSIAN have been made available for this model. The original Australian International Arms (AIA) magazine design replicated the magazine of the type used by the Kalashnikov model AK47 assault rifle and its military and commercial variants. Although newly manufactured, this magazine maintained the design aspects of the original and as such is subject to PART 4, PROHIBITED DEVICES, 3.(1) of the REGULATIONS PRESCRIBING CERTAIN FIREARMS AND OTHER WEAPONS, COMPONENTS AND PARTS OF WEAPONS, ACCESSORIES, CARTRIDGE MAGAZINES, AMMUNITION AND PROJECTILES AS PROHIBITED OR RESTRICTED. - a second magazine design for this rifle has been determined to be a purpose built, proprietary design intended for a bolt action rifle. Although this magazine design is similar to that used on the Kalashnikov, AK 47 type rifles, the addition of a protruding pin on the front of the magazine in the retaining groove (which corresponds to a machined mounting groove in the receiver/frame) is significant enough to distinguish it from a magazine intended for use in any automatic or semi-automatic rifle of known design. This decision only applies to newly manufactured magazines intended for use in bolt action rifles, commonly known as the Lee-Enfield design as produced/supplied for/by Australian International Arms (AIA).

The entire "M10" line is based on a newly manufactured, updated and modernized version of the Lee-Enfield No 4 Mark1*.

- features include: three-piece stock set made of Teak wood, buttstock features a full pistol grip and a Monte Carlo style cheekpiece, forend and upper handguard extend to mid-barrel on this model; blued finish; top of receiver/frame is drilled and tapped and has a Picatinny rail attached for mounting an optical sight; "L" type, dual aperture, flip up rear sight with a protected blade front sight mounted on the barrel; trigger mechanism is hung on the receiver/frame (in the same manner as the Lee-Enfield No 4 MARK 2 rifle); safety catch mounted on the left side of the receiver/frame; action "cocks" on closing of the bolt.

Importer	- the importer will usually be marked on the receiver/frame. - the M10 series was originally imported by Tristar Sporting Arms, in 2005 Sabre Defence Industries became the importer/distributor.
Canadian Law Comments	- the magazine design for this rifle, in calibre 7.62MM NATO has been determined to be a purpose built, proprietary design intended for a bolt action rifle (notwithstanding its incidental ability to be inserted into some other designs with varying degrees of success). Although this magazine design is similar to that used on the M14/M1A type rifles, differences, including the absence of a locating hole on the front of the magazine and a different détente on the rear of the magazine are significant enough to distinguish it from a magazine intended for use in any automatic or semi-automatic rifle of known design. This decision only applies to newly manufactured magazines intended for use in bolt action rifles, commonly known as the Lee-Enfield design as produced/supplied by Australian International Arms (AIA). Design characteristics also distinguish these newly manufactured magazines from their original Lee-Enfield counterparts. These new magazines are intended for use with a rimless cartridge (7.62MM NATO) as opposed to the original rimmed 303 BRITISH cartridge (this also precludes its use in the Charleton Automatic Rifle).

Model

- Australian International Arms builds a line of rifles known as the "M10" series. The "M10" is available in a wide variety of configurations where each version is given a unique model designation. The entire "M10" line is based on a newly manufactured, updated and modernized version of the Lee-Enfield No 4 Mark1*.
- the model designation is usually marked on the receiver/frame.
- features include: three-piece stock set made of teak wood, buttstock features a full pistol grip and a Monte Carlo style cheekpiece, forend and upper handguard extend to mid-barrel on this model; blued finish; "stepped" profile barrel with gain twist rifling; top of receiver/frame is drilled and tapped for a scope mount; "L" type, dual aperture, flip up rear sight with a protected adjustable blade front sight mounted on the barrel; trigger mechanism is hung on the receiver/frame (in the same manner as the Lee-Enfield No 4 MARK 2 rifle); safety catch mounted on the left side of the receiver/frame; action "cocks" on closing of the bolt.
- rifling characteristics - gain twist rifling, right hand twist, 1 turn in 25.4 mm (10 inches), chrome lined barrel.

Manufacturer

- Australian International Arms manufactures a line of bolt action rifles based on the Lee-Enfield rifle design. Australian International Arms had a short lived association with Australian Defence Industries (operating the former Small Arms Factory, Lithgow) who were going to produce a reproduction of the Winchester model 1887 lever action shotgun. Less than 100 examples were built before the business arrangement was terminated.

Action

- manually operated turn-bolt design.

Serial Number

- serial number is marked on the side of the receiver/frame.
- one sample examined used an "M10B" prefix followed by a dash (-), followed by sequential numbers.

Shots

- detachable box magazine.

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Importer

- the importer may or may not be marked on the receiver/frame.
- the M10 series was originally imported by Tristar Sporting Arms, in 2005 Sabre Defence Industries became the importer/distributor for the United States. Marstar Canada imports the line into Canada.

Canadian Law Comments

- the magazine design for this rifle, in calibre 7.62MM NATO has been determined to be a purpose built, proprietary design intended for a bolt action rifle (notwithstanding its incidental ability to be inserted into some other designs with varying degrees of success). Although this magazine design is similar to that used on the M14/M1A type rifles, differences, including the absence of a locating hole on the front of the magazine and a different détente on the rear of the magazine are significant enough to distinguish it from a magazine intended for use in any automatic or semi-automatic rifle of known design. This decision only applies to newly manufactured magazines intended for use in bolt action rifles, commonly known as the Lee-Enfield design as produced/supplied by Australian International Arms (AIA). Design characteristics also distinguish these newly manufactured magazines from their original Lee-Enfield counterparts. These new magazines are intended for use with a rimless cartridge (7.62MM NATO) as opposed to the original rimmed 303 BRITISH cartridge (this also precludes its use in the Charleton Automatic Rifle).

Notes

Make

- the make is not marked on the mortar.

Model

- the model may or may not be marked on the mortar.
- Hirtenberger's "C" class of light mortars are designed to give infantry a lightweight, portable method of providing light fire support at ranges up to 1600 metres; these mortars may be seen in both drop-fired and trigger-fired models, with the trigger-fired models having a thumb trigger on a handle at the bottom of the launching tube. Hirtenberger also produces an M6 60mm mortar, intended for firing from an emplaced position, with a full bipod, baseplate, and sight..
- features include: matte black anodized/painted finish; a synthetic handgrip on the barrel; a carrying strap which doubles as a ranging apparatus (placing the forward edge of the foot on range lines marked on the strap holds the mortar tube at the proper angle to give the corresponding range); drop- or trigger-fired (trigger-fired versions have a thumb trigger on a grip extending from the bottom of the launch tube); and a bowl-shaped baseplate (which can be used in conjunction with a flat rectangular baseplate on soft ground).
- licenced versions of this mortar are also produced by Arsenal in Bulgaria and EBO in Greece.

Manufacturer

- the manufacturer or logo thereof is marked on the mortar.
- Hirtenberger Defence Systems (a subsidiary of Hirtenberger AG) is an Austrian company based in Hirtenberg that specializes in the manufacture of ammunition and mortars.

Action

- drop or trigger fired single-shot.

Notes

Make

- "AUTO MAG" is not marked on pistol, but handgun is recognizable as an "Auto Mag".
- Auto Mag was originally manufactured by Auto Mag. Corp. of Pasadena, California between 1971 and 1972.
- Auto Mag was manufactured by Trust Deed Estates (TDE) Corporation of North Hollywood, and El Monte, California between 1972 and 1980.
- Auto Mag (High Standard Auto Mag) responsibilities for sales, and distribution were assumed by High Standard from 1974 to 1977. Actual manufacture was still done by Trust Deed Estates (TDE).
- Auto Mag was manufactured by Arcadia Machine & Tool (AMT) Corporation in the early 1980's.
- Auto Mag (Harry Sanford Commemorative) was manufactured by Galena Industries of Sturgis, South Dakota.

Model

- manufactured from 1970 to 1980.

Manufacturer

- "TDE" in a circle is marked on the side of the firearm.
- "TDE" is the monogram/abbreviation for Trust Deeds Estates Corporation.
- Trust Deed Estates (TDE) Corporation was located in North Hollywood, and El Monte, California, U.S.A. between 1972 and 1980.

Action

- recoil operated.

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Serial Number

- serial number is marked on the bottom strap of the receiver/frame.
- serial number range manufactured by Trust Deed Estates (TDE) at North Hollywood, California are from AO2500 to AO5015.
- serial number range manufactured by Trust Deed Estates (TDE) at El Monte, California are from A05016 to A08300.

Calibre

- ".357 AMP" is marked on the left side of the receiver/frame.

Remarks

- the Auto Mag pistol was originally designed and produced at "Sanford Arms" (Pasadena, California) in the early 1960s: - all essentially hand-made.
- by 1970, production had been taken over by the "Auto Mag Corp" (also located at Pasadena, California), production costs of these handguns were too great to be a commercial success and the "Auto Mag Corp" went out of business in 1972.
- following the bankruptcy of the "Auto Mag Corp", the Thomas Oil Company bought the assets of the "Auto Mag Corp", and formed "Trust Deed Estates" (AKA - "TDE") to produce these pistols (first in North Hollywood, California, then in El Monte, California).
- production costs were still too high for the Auto Mag pistol to be a commercial success, so the rights to manufacture the pistol were sold to High Standard, of New Haven, Connecticut (actual production still took place at the TDE plant in El Monte, Calif.).
- in 1977, High Standard ceased production of the pistol, and the rights to the Auto Mag were returned to the original designer, Harry Sanford. Using the name of "TDE-OMC", Harry Sanford began producing the "Model B" Auto Mag pistol, which had a solid bolt, rather than the skeletonized bolt of earlier Auto Mags. However, production costs were still too high to make the pistol a successful commercial venture, and once again in 1980, production ceased.
- after TDE-OMC ceased production, Arcadia Machine & Tool (AMT), also attempted to produce the Auto Mag pistol in commercial quantities, but only succeeded in manufacturing 100 pistols before conceeding defeat.
- at various different times, both Lee Jurras and Kent Lomont have made prototype quantities of the Auto Mag pistol (including some in very unusual calibres and configurations). In 1999, Galena Industries announced that they would be producing 1000 commemorative pistols honoring Harry Sanford.

- by 1970, production had been taken over by the "Auto Mag Corp" (also located at Pasadena, California), production costs of these handguns were too great to be a commercial success and the "Auto Mag Corp" went out of business in 1972.
- following the bankruptcy of the "Auto Mag Corp", the Thomas Oil Company bought the assets of the "Auto Mag Corp", and formed "Trust Deed Estates" (AKA - "TDE") to produce these pistols (first in North Hollywood, California, then in El Monte, California).
- production costs were still too high for the Auto Mag pistol to be a commercial success, so the rights to manufacture the pistol were sold to High Standard, of New Haven, Connecticut (actual production still took place at the TDE plant in El Monte, Calif.).
- in 1977, High Standard ceased production of the pistol, and the rights to the Auto Mag were returned to the original designer, Harry Sanford. Using the name of "TDE-OMC", Harry Sanford began producing the "Model B" Auto Mag pistol, which had a solid bolt, rather than the skeletonized bolt of earlier Auto Mags. However, production costs were still too high to make the pistol a successful commercial venture, and once again in 1980, production ceased.
- after TDE-OMC ceased production, Arcadia Machine & Tool (AMT), also attempted to produce the Auto Mag pistol in commercial quantities, but only succeeded in manufacturing 100 pistols before conceding defeat.
- at various different times, both Lee Jurras and Kent Lomont have made prototype quantities of the Auto Mag pistol (including some in very unusual calibres and configurations). In 1999, Galena Industries announced that they would be producing 1000 commemorative pistols honoring Harry Sanford.

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Make	- "AGUIRRE Y ARANZABAL" is marked on the bottom of the receiver/frame. - "AGUIRRE Y ARANZABAL" logo of a lion over "AYA" in a circle is marked on the firearm.
Model	- this is a side by side, boxlock shotgun, with color case hardened receiver/frame and minimal line engraving on screw-heads, chambers, and borders. - features include: checkered walnut stock and forearm, Anson & Deeley locking system, tang safety, ejectors, and double triggers. - on this firearm, an oval on the bottom of the receiver/frame is left "in the white", so an owner can have his/her initials engraved there. - also available in deluxe version, with color case hardened receiver/frame and full coverage scroll engraving on screw-heads, chambers, and borders. - depending on the grade, these shotguns may be seen with colour-case-hardened or coin-finished receivers, and a range of engraving styles and coverage. - some versions of this shotgun are also made with a round-action receiver, with radiused lower edges. - a version of the No. 4 is also produced in a "try gun" configuration, with an adjustable stock, which allows a shooter to be fitted with a stock configuration to their tastes (length of pull, cast-on, cast off, height of comb, etc.).
Manufacturer	- "AGUIRRE Y ARANZABAL" is marked on the bottom of the receiver/frame. - "AGUIRRE Y ARANZABAL" logo of a lion over "AYA" in a circle is marked on the firearm.
Action	- side by side barrel configuration, hinged barrel design.
Serial Number	- serial number is marked on the receiver/frame. - in 1995, the Spanish government instituted a new system for firearm's serial numbering. This system incorporated the code number of the gunmaker/manufacturer, weapon code, serial number sequence, and year of manufacture. - an example of a serial number is as follows: "16 - 03 - #0# - 95". - serial number break down, the first two numbers (16) are the code numbers for the manufacture, the next two numbers (03) are the code numbers for shotgun, the next numbers are the serial number sequence and the last two numbers (95) are the year of manufacture.
Barrel	- other barrel lengths are available on request.

Notes

Make

- "Aydt System" or "System Aydt" may be stamped on receiver/frame.

Model

- "Aydt" is one of the most successful single shot actions used by European gunmakers to built "Off-Hand" or "Schuetzen" rifles.
- Carl Wilhelm Aydt built his own rifles on this design from 1884 until 1888, after which he licenced C.G. Haenel to produce this design; Haenel manufactured this design from 1888 onwards (as the "Haenel Original-Aydt") and provided raw receivers and parts in the white to other manufacturers as the "Original System Aydt", until Aydt's German patents expired in 1904. After 1904, a wide variety of manufacturers began producing their own copies of this action (for both rifles and pistols) and customarily marked them as "Syst. Aydt" (System Aydt) on the breechblock.
- features include:
- swinging block action hollowed to contain the hammer, which pivots under the barrel and is locked in place by a shoulder on the operating lever.
- the key to identifying this firearm is when the action is open the breech end of the barrel is entirely exposed to allow for easy and convenient loading and unloading with no receiver "walls" interfering with this operation.
- several thousands of these actions were used by many European gunmakers thus other features may vary greatly as to wood selection and configuration, barrel contour, length and calibre, triggers type, sights & lever configuration.

Manufacturer

- Carl Wilhelm Aydt patented a swinging block system in 1884.

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Action - swinging block action.

Canadian Law Comments - some examples of this model, when manufactured prior to 1898, are considered "Antique" in Canada.
