Notes

Make

- PRIVATIVA S. Carcano may be marked on the receiver/frame.
- Salvatore Carcano patented this breech design based on the Dreyse and Doersch-Baumgarten needle-gun system and this design was used in the conversion of various muzzle loading military rifles and carbines.

Model

- Model designation is not marked on the firearm.
- This is a circa 1867 conversion of the 1856/1860 model of muzzle loading rifle to a breech loading, cartridge firing firearm that was later replaced by the Vetterli Model 1870; as with its Dreyse "needle gun" contemporary, this rifle used a paper cartridge with a primer at the base of the bullet, inside a cartridge forward of the powder charge, so the firing-pin has to pierce completely through the powder charge in order to fire the chambered cartridge.
- These firearms were made in rifle, carbine, gendarmerie musketoon, and musketoon lengths, each with slightly-different characteristics.
- Features include: single piece, straight stock; "bulbous" bolt knob locked forward of the retained percussion nipple bolster; post front and leaf-type rear sight; two barrel bands and forend cap; ram rod (retained on early conversions and later discarded); and a manually-cocked striker at the rear of the bolt, with a sliding cocking piece that is pushed forward before firing.
- Overall length with a 795 mm (31.3 inches) barrel is 1268 mm (49.9 inches), average weight is 4.5 kg (9.93 lbs).

Manufacturer

- Manufacturer and/or their logo is usually marked on the firearm.
- As these were factory conversions of earlier muzzle-loaded percussion rifles, the original markings may remain.

Action

- Turn bolt operated.

Serial Number

- Serial number may be marked on the right side of the receiver/frame on the percussion bolster.

Remarks

- Original pre-conversion markings may be present.

Remarks

- this firearm is a sporterized version of the British, Canadian and American manufactured No.4 MARK 1 Lee-Enfield military rifle. Conversion involved simply removing barrel bands and top wood then cutting forearm to half length. This "economy" type of sporterizing No.4 Lee-Enfield rifles was undertaken in significant quantity by Century International Arms and Globe Firearms, neither of which usually marked their work.

- "CENTURY INTERNATIONAL ARMS LTD" was observed marked on the barrel of a CENTURION.

Model

- "Mod MDL GP1975" was observed marked on the left side of the receiver/frame of a sample firearm.
- this firearm is of the design commonly known as the AK-47 rifle.
- the Century International MDL GP 1975 is firearm based on the original Romanian GP 1975, AKM and remanufactured to be a semi-automatic firearm.
- MDL GP1975 uses a purpose built semi-auto receiver/frame made by D.C. Inc.
- MDL GP1975 receiver/frame will not allow the installation of the original automatic sear assembly. The automatic sear axis pin hole and the automatic sear trip lever rail groove are not machined into the newly manufactured receiver/frame. A non-removable blind pin is placed slightly higher and forward of the normal location of the automatic sear axis pin hole in an automatic version of the Romanian GP 1975, AKM (Kalashnikov) design. The blind pin is finished flush to the inside of both sides of the interior of the receiver/frame walls. This adaptation means that there are only two removable axis pins (trigger and hammer) instead of original three as found on the automatic version (trigger, hammer and automatic sear).
- bolt carrier has had the automatic sear trip lug removed.
- trigger is a single hook TAPCO AK G2 semi-automatic trigger group which replaces the original trigger assembly.
- magazine well on this D.C. Inc. receiver/frame is narrower than the Romanian GP 1975 receiver/frame and will not accept the wider double column AK magazine.
- magazine well can be easily modified to except the standard AK magazine and samples have been advertised as such.

Manufacturer

- "CENTURY INTERNATIONAL ARMS INC." and "D.C. INDUSTRIES, INC. Saint Paul. MN USA" was observed marked on the left side of the receiver/frame above the trigger axis pin on a sample firearm.
- Century International Arms Limited of Montreal, Quebec, Canada is re-manufacturing the MDL GP1975 from Romanian GP 1975 AKM type rifles parts.
- Century International Arms is using newly manufactured D.C. Inc. AKM stamped receiver/frame that have pre-drilled rivet holes for the Romanian fixed style stock.

Action

- gas operated.
- the MDL GP1975 is available in semi-automatic only.

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Serial Number	- serial number was observed marked on the left side of the receiver/frame. - observed sample serial number consisted of a number, followed by two letters, a space, a letter followed by five digits, eg. "7SL C00000".
Calibre	- "7.62x39" is marked on the left side of the receiver/frame.
Shots	- detachable box magazine. - unique "Romanian" marked single stack 10 round magazine. - may also be found with the regular AK style double stack magazine.

Notes

Make

- "W. CHANCE, SON & CO." was observed on the top of the barrel.

Model

- model is not marked on the firearm; this is a descriptor of the firearm type.
- this is an early "transitional" revolver, based largely on the earlier percussion bar-hammer pepperbox pattern. It is fitted with a single barrel by shortening the barrel assembly, then mounting a barrel on the shortened axis pin.
- features include: fixed open sights; octagonal barrel; unfluted cylinder; double-action trigger mechanism with a top-mounted bar hammer; checkered wooden grips on a bag-shaped grip-frame; grip/frame observed was engraved with a floral-scroll pattern between the cylinder and the checkered grip.
- these pistols should not be confused with purpose-built revolvers having solid frames (the Large Frame and Small Frame Pocket Revolvers); though the mechanism is very similar, the Large and Small Frame revolvers have solid frames, with frame-mounted barrels.

Manufacturer

- "W. CHANCE, SON & CO." was observed on the top of the barrel.
- William Chance was a merchant in Birmingham from 1777 to 1780 and became Chance & Homer from 1780 to 1812 and then became William Chance & Sons from 1812 to 1821 selling guns marked "London".
- William Chance (the son of William) was located in London from 1829 to 1842 and became William Chance, Son & Co. from 1842 to 1856, then William Chance & Co. in 1858. Their main premises located in Birmingham with guns still marked "London".

Action

- this is a pepperbox pistol that was converted to a revolver by shortening the barrel assembly, then mounting a single barrel on the shortened axis pin.

Serial Number

- serial number is usually marked on the receiver/frame.

Other Markings

- Birmingham proof mark of a crown over crossed swords with the letters "B", "P" and "C" was observed on the cylinder.

Make	- the make is marked on the firearm.
Model	- this is a standard-pattern side by side boxlock double rifle in the Chapuis Armes "Progress" series; this rifle differs from other "Progress" rifles mainly in the presence of folding 4-leaf express sights. - features include: deluxe walnut pistol-grip stock and forearm; extended false sideplates with African game-scene and deep-relief scroll engraving; double triggers; tang safety; quarter-rib; receiver ledges; 4-leaf express-style sights and ejectors.
Manufacturer	- St. Bonnet Le Chateau, France. Do not confuse with "P. Chapuis et Fils Armes", a completely different manufacturer also located in St. Bonnet Le Chateau.
Action	- side by side pattern.
Serial Number	- numbered on the receiver/frame.
Other Markings	- Chapuis' logo is a "C" super-imposed on a rifle or shotgun within an oval; may or may not be present.
Remarks	- This is a box-lock double rifle that comes with either a color-case-hardened or a coin-finished receiver with scroll engraving and 3 African animals engraved on it; select French walnut stock with a compartment in the pistol grip; also available in a "Second Grade", with best quality woodwork and elaborate engraving.

Notes

Make

- the "Charles Daly" name is marked on the right side of the receiver/frame.
- Charles Daly was one of two partners who formed the sporting goods business of Schoverling & Daly in 1863. The business, located in New York City imported and distributed high quality firearms in the United States.
- in 1873 the company was reorganized to include a third partner, and the name was changed to Schoverling, Daly and Gales. By importing only the finest firearms the Charles Daly brand name became synonymous with high quality.
- as the result of several ownership changes over the years the prime asset of the firm became the "Charles Daly" name.
- in 1919 Henry Modell bought the company and controlled it until he sold it to the Waltzer family, owners of Sloan's Sporting Goods of Ridgefield, Connecticut. The Waltzer's established "Charles Daly & Company" (still of New York City) as a division of Sloan's and continued to import shotguns from Italy, Japan and Spain.
- in 1976, Sloan's sold Charles Daly to Outdoor Sports Headquarters Inc. of Dayton, Ohio who expanded the line to include black powder muzzle loading firearms.
- in 1996, Outdoors Sports Headquarters Inc. was sold to Jerry's Sports Center, Inc. of Forest City, Pennsylvania, who in turn sold the Charles Daly trade mark to Kassner Brothers Imports (KBI) of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.
- since acquiring the Charles Daly name KBI has expanded the line to include handguns, pump action shotguns, and both centre-fire and rimfire rifles.

Make	- the name "Charles Daly" is marked on the right side of the receiver/frame. - Charles Daly was one of two partners who formed the sporting goods business of Schoverling & Daly in 1863. The business, located in New York City imported and distributed high quality firearms in the United States. - in 1873 the company was reorganized to include a third partner, and the name was changed to Schoverling, Daly and Gales. By importing only the finest firearms the Charles Daly brand name became synonymous with high quality. - as the result of several ownership changes over the years the prime asset of the firm became the "Charles Daly" name. - in 1919 Henry Modell bought the company and controlled it until he sold it to the Waltzer family, owners of Sloan's Sporting Goods of Ridgefield, Connecticut. The Waltzer's established "Charles Daly & Company" (still of New York City) as a division of Sloan's and continued to import shotguns from Italy, Japan and Spain. - in 1976, Sloan's sold Charles Daly to Outdoor Sports Headquarters Inc. of Dayton, Ohio who expanded the line to include black powder muzzle loading firearms. - in 1996, Outdoors Sports Headquarters Inc. was sold to Jerry's Sports Center, Inc. of Forest City, Pennsylvania, who in turn sold the Charles Daly trade mark to Kassner Brothers Imports (KBI) of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. - since acquiring the Charles Daly name KBI has expanded the line to include handguns, pump action shotguns, and both centre-fire and rimfire rifles.
Model	- "600 Field", "600", or "Field" may be marked on the firearm. - this is a specific variation of Charles Daly's "600" series semi-automatic shotgun, chambered for 3" shells (2 3/4" in 28 Gauge), and intended for hunters and waterfowlers. - features include: black or full camouflage finish; screw-in interchangeable chokes; bead sight; ventilated rib; synthetic forearm and pistol-grip stock; right side ejection port and operating handle; cross-bolt safety at the rear of the trigger guard; and a ventilated rubber buttpad. - a version of this shotgun chambered for 3 1/2" shells is also available, as the "635 Master-Mag".
Manufacturer	- manufacturer's name is not usually marked on the firearm. - "Made In Turkey" is usually marked on the barrel.
Action	- gas operated.
Serial Number	- serial numbered on the receiver/frame.
Shots	- tubular magazine fed.

Notes

Make

- the name "Charles Daly" is marked on the right side of the receiver/frame.
- Charles Daly was one of two partners who formed the sporting goods business of Schoverling & Daly in 1863. The business, located in New York City imported and distributed high quality firearms in the United States.
- in 1873 the company was reorganized to include a third partner, and the name was changed to Schoverling, Daly and Gales. By importing only the finest firearms the Charles Daly brand name became synonymous with high quality.
- as the result of several ownership changes over the years the prime asset of the firm became the "Charles Daly" name.
- in 1919 Henry Modell bought the company and controlled it until he sold it to the Waltzer family, owners of Sloan's Sporting Goods of Ridgefield, Connecticut. The Waltzer's established "Charles Daly & Company" (still of New York City) as a division of Sloan's and continued to import shotguns from Italy, Japan and Spain.
- in 1976, Sloan's sold Charles Daly to Outdoor Sports Headquarters Inc. of Dayton, Ohio who expanded the line to include black powder muzzle loading firearms.
- in 1996, Outdoors Sports Headquarters Inc. was sold to Jerry's Sports Center, Inc. of Forest City, Pennsylvania, who in turn sold the Charles Daly trade mark to Kassner Brothers Imports (KBI) of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.
- since acquiring the Charles Daly name KBI has expanded the line to include handguns, pump action shotguns, and both centre-fire and rimfire rifles.

Model

- "600T", "600", or "T" may be marked on the firearm.
- this is a specific variation of Charles Daly's "600" series semi-automatic shotgun, built specifically as a trap-shooting shotgun.
- features include: blued finish; screw-in interchangeable chokes; bead sight; ventilated rib; checkered walnut forearm and pistol grip stock; right side ejection port and operating handle; cross bolt safety at the rear of the trigger guard; and a ventilated rubber buttpad.

- since acquiring the Charles Daly name KBI has expanded the line to include handguns, pump action shotguns, and both centre-fire and rimfire rifles.

Model

- importation began in 1997.
- this is a Spanish manufactured hammerless side lock, break action shotgun.
- features include: blued barrels; colour case-hardened receiver/frame and side-locks with full coverage engraving; select European walnut, English style (straight grip) buttstock and beavertail forend; double triggers, front trigger is hinged; top tang mounted opening lever and safety catch; silver oval buttstock inlay with the initials "CD".
- a similar shotgun, known as the Diamond Regent DL is also offered under the Charles Daly trade name. This model differs in having a silver receiver/frame with the Charles Daly name and "Regent Diamond" inlaid in gold on the underside of the receiver/frame, a choice of the owners initials or "CD) in a gold stock inlay and a higher grade of walnut furniture.

Manufacturer

- manufacturer's identifier/logo is usually marked on the water table and underside of the barrel flats. Based on a 1995 Spanish government requirement, the water table will also bear a "31-03" marking, the "31" is a gunmakers code that denotes manufacture by Grulla Armas and the "03" denotes the code for a shotgun.

Action

- side by side barrel configuration.

Serial Number

- in 1995, the Spanish government instituted a new system for firearm's serial numbering. This system incorporated the code number of the gunmaker/manufactuer, weapon code, serial number sequence, and year of manufacturer.
- an example of a serial number is as follows: "31 - 03 - #0# - 95".
- serial number break down, the first two numbers (31) are the code numbers for the manufacture, the next two numbers (03) are the code numbers for shotgun, the next Numbers are the serial number sequence and the last two numbers (95) are the year of manufacture.
