Notes

Make

- "Dominion Arms" is usually marked on the side of the firearm.
- "Dominion Arms" and "CanadaAmmo" are trade/brand names of Disco-Tech Industries, Inc. of Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada.

Model

- "313B" is marked on the firearm.
- Dominion Arms Model 313B appears to be a renamed copy of a Type 81 Rifle.
- Type 81 Rifle incorporates elements of the Dragunov Sniper Rifle, SKS, and AK series rifles.
- the rifle is cosmetically influenced by the Type 56 license produced AK-47, but with a SKS-like short-stroke gas-piston design and improvements to reduce the recoil and muzzle jump, giving better firing accuracy.
- Type 81 rifle retains the general layout of AK-47 but is not an improved variant of the license produced AK-47 (the Type 56); major differences include the positioning of the sights and the commercial thumb-hole stock of the rifle, the most easily distinguishable feature.
- there is a significant gap between the trigger guard and the magazine on Type 81 rifles, while on the Type 56 series the magazine is adjacent to the front of the trigger guard. The Type 81 rifle is a short-stroke gas-operated design, while the Type 56 are long-stroke designs.

Manufacturer

- manufacturer's name is not usually marked on the firearm.

Action

- gas operated.

Serial Number

- sample serial number observed consisted of a series of six numbers.

Shots

- detachable box magazine.

Canadian Law Comments

1) The Dominion Arms, Model 313B, Receiver/Frame is considered to be comprised of four parts/components:
a) the Front Trunnion/Rear Sight Block;
b) the Ejector Block;
c) the Rear Trunnion/Return Spring Catch; and,
d) the stamped steel rectangular channel portion to which the other receiver/frame components are permanently affixed by rivet and/or weld.

2) For regulatory purposes, when the receiver/frame is further disassembled, the receiver/frame component known as the Front Trunion/Rear Sight Block, where the manufacturer information and serial number are found, is used to establish the description for the purpose of firearms registration.

3) When the receiver/frame is further disassembled and reduced to its four components, the component that bears the serial number, model and factory number, (the Front Trunnion/Rear Sight Block), will be considered the Receiver/Frame.

4) The classification of this firearm as a semi-automatic firearm is based on the presumption that none of the original four (4) receiver components were reused. This is what was understood to be the meaning of the claim by the manufacturer that the firearm is a "newly manufactured semi-automatic firearm".

5) The Criminal Code PART III, Section 84 para (c) definition - prohibited firearm means, "an automatic firearm, whether or not it has been altered to discharge only one projectile with one pressure of the trigger.
