Notes

Make

- "L. Harrison" is marked on the left side of the receiver/frame.

Model

- manufactured prior to 1838.
- model designation is not marked on the firearm.
- model designation is derived from the method by which this pistol is loaded; loading was accomplished by unscrewing the barrel.
- this is a single shot pistol with a removable barrel and an exposed hammer centrally located on the receiver/frame behind the chamber.
- this handgun is intended to be loaded from the breech end of the barrel and as such was originally supplied with a wrench to unscrew the barrel from the receiver/frame in order that a lead ball and loose powder could be inserted into the chamber end of the barrel and then the barrel screwed back onto the receiver/frame.
- features may include: round screw on barrel with underlug for wrench; boxlock action; exposed centrally positioned ringneck cock; folding trigger; sliding-type safety device on the top of the rear tang which engages a notch in the rear of the hammer; and wooden grip.

Manufacturer

- "L. Harrison" is marked on the left side of the receiver/frame.
- Launcelot Harrison operated as a gunsmith in Carlisle, England between 1810 and 1837.

Action

- the barrel unscrews in front of the chamber, so it can be loaded with a ball that fits the barrel more tightly than is possible with a muzzle loader.
- the turnoff barrel may be rifled.

Other Markings

- British proofmarks are usually apparent on the receiver/frame and/or the barrel.
- engravings that may appear on both sides of receiver/frame depicts a "Trophy of Arms".

Notes

Make

- "HART'S PATENT" is marked on the sides of the firearm ("HART'S" on one side, "PATENT" on the other.
- William Hart was a Fredonia, New York-based inventor and gunsmith active in the 1820s and 1830s.

Model

- the model is not marked on the firearm; this is a description of the firearm type.
- this is a single-shot pistol made to use "pill" priming, an immediate precursor to the percussion cap. In this system, the sensitive priming compound was moulded into tiny spherical "pills", and those pills ignite when struck by a hammer, in the same manner as a percussion cap does. Though this system worked, the hazardous and fragile nature of the priming pills made them difficult to use, and this priming system was soon replaced by percussion caps.
- features include: generalized "saloon pistol" appearance; brass construction; round barrel with square-profile frame; a curved "tube"-style hammer with an extension to allow cocking; an integral pan-cover that withdraws automatically as the hammer is cocked; and walnut grip panels.

Manufacturer

- "HART'S PATENT" is marked on the sides of the firearm ("HART'S" on one side, "PATENT" on the other.
- William Hart was a Fredonia, New York-based inventor and gunsmith active in the 1820s and 1830s.

Canadian Law Comments

- This firearm may have left the factory equipped with a sound suppressor/silencer. The sound suppressor is subject to the definition of "Prohibited Device" in Section 84, Part III (Firearms and Other Weapons) of the Criminal Code of Canada.

- If the complete sound suppressor/silencer (prohibited device) is removed, the firearm is correctly identified as a "Non-Restricted Firearm". NOTE: removal of the internal components of the sound suppressor/silencer (prohibited device) is not sufficient to mitigate a prohibited classification. All components of the sound suppressor/silencer, including the device body, end caps, mounting hardware, all internal parts (baffles, screens, spacers, wipes, etc.), must be removed.

Other Markings

- "QUATTRO" over "TRIGGER" followed by "SAS" over "SHOCK ABSORBER SYSTEM" was observed marked on the right side of the receiver/frame.

Shots	- Detachable rotary disc magazine.
Canadian Law Comments	- Discharges a projectile at a muzzle velocity exceeding 152.4 mps and a muzzle energy exceeding 5.7 Joules. - This firearm may have left the factory equipped with a sound suppressor/silencer. The sound suppressor is subject to the definition of "Prohibited Device" in Section 84, Part III (Firearms and Other Weapons) of the Criminal Code of Canada. If the complete sound suppressor/silencer (prohibited device) is removed, the firearm is correctly identified as a "Non-Restricted Firearm". NOTE: removal of the internal components of the sound suppressor/silencer (prohibited device) is not sufficient to mitigate a prohibited classification. All components of the sound suppressor/silencer, including the device body, end caps, mounting hardware, all internal parts (baffles, screens, spacers, wipes, etc.), must be removed.

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Manufacturer	- "HATSAN" is marked in the logo on top of the firearm. - "HATSAN" logo is a bow and arrow logo at the center of two circle. - "Made in Turkey" is marked on the left side of the barrel block. - "ESCORT" and "OPTIMA" are trademarks manufactured by "Hatsan Arms".
Action	- Break open action. - Compressed gas piston.
Serial Number	- Serial number is marked on the left side of the barrel block.
Calibre	- Calibre identification is marked on the left side of the barrel block. - Velocity was marked on the left side of the barrel block in one example.
Shots	- Detachable rotary disc magazine.
Canadian Law Comments	- At least two variants of this particular model exist: Variant #1: discharges a projectile at a muzzle velocity exceeding 152.4mps and a muzzle energy exceeding 5.7 Joules. This variant is subject to the provisions as they apply to firearms under the Criminal Code, Part III and the Firearms Act which include Licensing, Registration, Possession, Export and Import and Authorizations To Transport. Variant #2: does not discharge a projectile at a muzzle velocity exceeding 152.4mps and/or a muzzle energy exceeding 5.7 Joules. This variant is deemed not to be a firearm in accordance with the Criminal Code, Section 84 (3) and the provisions of the Firearms Act and therefore exempt from Licensing, Registration, Possession, Export and Import and Authorizations To Transport. - This firearm may have left the factory equipped with a sound suppressor/silencer. The sound suppressor is subject to the definition of "Prohibited Device" in Section 84, Part III (Firearms and Other Weapons) of the Criminal Code of Canada. If the complete sound suppressor/silencer (prohibited device) is removed, the firearm is correctly identified as a "Non-Restricted Firearm". NOTE: removal of the internal components of the sound suppressor/silencer (prohibited device) is not sufficient to mitigate a prohibited classification. All components of the sound suppressor/silencer, including the device body, end caps, mounting hardware, all internal parts (baffles, screens, spacers, wipes, etc.), must be removed.

- "HAWES" or "HAWES FIREARMS CO." or "HAWES FIREARMS COMPANY" or "HAWES NATIONAL CORP." is usually marked on the barrel or receiver/frame.
- "Hawes Firearms Company" was an importer of European and Japanese firearms during the 1950s, 1960s, and 1970s.
- "Hawes Firearms Company" of Los Angeles, California, U.S.A. was re-organized around 1977 to become "Hawes National Corporation".
- "Hawes National Corporation" of Van Nuys, California, U.S.A." seems to have ceased operations in 1981.

Model

- "Western Marshal" was sold by Hawes from approximately 1969 to 1979.
- "WESTERN MARSHAL" is normally marked on the right side of the barrel.
- "Western Marshal" resembles a "Colt model 1873 Single Action Army" revolver.
- "Western Marshal" was offered with interchangeable cylinders for the following calibre combinations: 22 LR & 22 Magnum, 357 Magnum & 9mm Luger, 44 Magnum & 44-40 Winchester, and 45 Colt & 45 Auto.
- features include: fixed blade front sight and a groove in the top strap for a rear sight or an adjustable rear sight; round, rifled barrel with ejector rod assembly; solid top receiver/frame with a removable fluted cylinder and swing-down right side loading gate; exposed spur hammer; rounded brass or steel trigger guard; single action trigger mechanism; flat bottom brass or steel grip strap; wood or stag horn grip panels; blued finish.

Manufacturer

- Sauer sold these models under their own name outside of North America.
- "J.P. SAUER & SOHN" and "MADE IN WESTERN GERMANY" or "MADE IN WESTERN GERMANY BY" and "J.P. SAUER & SOHN" may be marked on the side of the barrel.

Serial Number

- serial number is marked on the underside of the receiver/frame in front of the trigger guard and may be repeated on the left side of the barrel.
- serial number may contain a slash (/) that would be the second character from either the left or the right.

Calibre

- calibre designation is normally marked on the right side of the barrel.

Shots

- interchangeable cylinders were available for this model.

Other Markings

- West German proof marks will be found on this firearm.

Remarks

- HAWES FIREARMS COMPANY appears to have re-organized around 1978 to become HAWES NATIONAL CORPORATION, which itself seems to have gone defunct in 1981.

Shots	- detachable box magazine. - magazine is constructed of polymer material and may be transparent. - G36 model uses the magzine from Heckler & Koch Model 416 "family" of firearms.
Canadian Law Comments	- G36 model uses the magazine from Heckler & Koch Model 416 "family" of firearms. - there are large capacity cartridge magazines available for the Heckler & Koch Model 416 "family" of firearms. - these firearm Models are manufactured in both rifle and handgun configurations. The cartridge magazines are advertised by H&K as interchange between the rifle and the handgun; all H&K Model 416 Cartridge Magazines are considered "handgun" magazines. As handguns are limited to a ten shot magazine capacity in accordance with the CC PART III, S. 84, Regulations PART 4 Para 3. (1) (b) "The Former Cartridge Magazine Control Regulations", this limits the magazine capacity for both the rifle and the handgun configuration of the H&K Model 416 to ten (10) shots, despite the firearm being designed to use rim-fire ammunition. NOTE: - the Heckler & Koch cartridge magazine for this firearm at 10 shots capacity, H&K 416 Part Number 2245300 is an acceptable "handgun" magazine. - the Heckler & Koch cartridge magazine for this firearm at 20 shots capacity, H&K 416 Part Number 2245301 is a "prohibited device" unless reduced to ten (10) shots capacity. - the Heckler & Koch cartridge magazine for this firearm at 30 shots capacity, H&K 416 Part Number 2245302 is a "prohibited device" unless reduced to ten (10) shots capacity.

Shots

- detachable polymer box magazine.

Canadian Law Comments

- there are large capacity cartridge magazines available for the Heckler & Koch Model 416 "family" of firearms.
- these firearm Models are manufactured in both rifle and handgun configurations. The cartridge magazines are advertised by H&K as interchange between the rifle and the handgun; all H&K Model 416 Cartridge Magazines are considered "handgun" magazines. As handguns are limited to a ten shot magazine capacity in accordance with the CC PART III, S. 84, Regulations PART 4 Para 3. (1) (b) "The Former Cartridge Magazine Control Regulations", this limits the magazine capacity for both the rifle and the handgun configuration of the H&K Model 416 to ten (10) shots, despite the firearm being designed to use rim-fire ammunition.

NOTE:
- the Heckler & Koch cartridge magazine for this firearm at 10 shots capacity, H&K 416 Part Number 2245300 is an acceptable "handgun" magazine.
- the Heckler & Koch cartridge magazine for this firearm at 20 shots capacity, H&K 416 Part Number 2245301 is a "prohibited device" unless reduced to ten (10) shots capacity.
- the Heckler & Koch cartridge magazine for this firearm at 30 shots capacity, H&K 416 Part Number 2245302 is a "prohibited device" unless reduced to ten (10) shots capacity.

- the company logo "HK" was observed marked on the left side of the receiver/frame.

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Model	- "HK 417" was observed marked on the left side of the receiver/frame. - introduced in 2006 as a larger version of the HK 416 and chambered in 7.62MM NATO. - the HK417 features a short stroke piston, gas operating system which is inherently "cleaner" than a direct gas-impingement operating system. - capable of full automatic fire. - features include: removable fixed front and adjustable rear sight; ejection port dust cover, case deflector and manual assist are located on the right side of the firearm; safety/semi-auto/full auto selector located on the left side of the receiver/frame; single trigger mechanism; four picatinny accessory rails; flash hider; pistol grip and retractable buttstock. - as usual with H&K products a variety of trigger mechanisms will be made available to configure the firearm for mode of fire.
Manufacturer	- "HECKLER & KOCH GMBH" over "MADE IN GERMANY" was observed marked on the right side of the magazine housing.
Action	- gas operated.
Serial Number	- serial number is marked on the left side of the receiver/frame above the trigger mechanism. - observed specimen had eight numbers, eg. 89-000135
Calibre	- "Cal. 7.62 mm x 51" was observed marked on the side of the magazine well.
Shots	- utilizes modified G3 magazines.
Remarks	- the HK417 features a short stroke piston, gas operating system which is inherently "cleaner" than a direct gas-impingement operating system which is the traditional Armalite Rifle operating system..

Notes

Make

- "Heckler & Koch" and/or the "HK" logo is marked on the firearm.

Model

- "M27" is marked on the left side of the magazine well.
- this is a 5.56mm automatic rifle adopted by the US Army & Marine Corps in 2010 as a limited replacement for the M249 "Minimi" Squad Automatic Weapon/ light machine gun; these rifles were intended to give an infantry squad automatic fire capability in a lighter-weight, more maneuvrable system than the belt-fed M249.
- the M27 is based on the HK416 automatic rifle, with various changes to meet the requirements of the military tender request.
- features include: birdcage flash suppressor; folding open backup sights; ventilated four-rail forearm; flat-top upper with various optical or night sights; forward-assist upper; case deflector; and ejection port cover; ambidextrous three-position safety/selector (safe, semi, full, marked with bullet ideographs), and a collapsible buttstock with cheekpiece; matte black, tan, or flat dark earth finish.

Notes

Make	- "HECKLER & KOCH. INC. - STERLING. VA." is usually marked on the right side of the receiver/frame.
Model	- "MOD. M3 SUPER 90" is marked on the left side of the receiver/frame. - the shotgun has a duo operating system that can be operated as a pump action or as a semi automatic. - features include: blackened receiver/frame and barrel; the barrel may or may not have a top rib; may have a fixed or adjustable rear sight with a fixed front sight and/or a scope; synthetic pistol-grip stock and forearm or a synthetic pistol-grip with a folding stock skeletonized top folding stock.
Manufacturer	- "BENELLI ARMI SPA URBINO ITALY" is marked on the left side of the barrel. - "BENELLI ARMI SYSTEM" is marked on the breech block.
Action	- this firearm is considered "Other" for an action-type because it can operate as a semi-automatic (gas operated) or a pump action. - designed to function primarily as a semi-automatic firearm, with the pump-action mode used to reliably fire low-pressure ammunition such as tear gas rounds or less-lethal rounds. - action switch is located at the forward end of the forearm, and is formed as a knurled ring. Rotation of this ring either engages the action rods of the pump system and locks the semi-automatic recoil system, or disengages the action bars, locks the forearm and allows the inertia recoil system to operate the action automatically.
Serial Number	- serial number is marked on the right side of the receiver/frame above the trigger guard. - serial number observed consisted of a letter "M" prefix and six numbers.
Calibre	- "MAGNUM CAL 12 CL" is marked on the right side of the barrel.
Shots	- tubular magazine is mounted under the barrel.

Notes

Make

- "Heckler & Koch", "HK" or the "HK" logo is marked on the firearm.

Model

- "MG5" may or may not be marked on the firearm.
- this is a newly-designed general-purpose machine gun designed by Heckler & Koch in 2006 to replace the MG3 family, which was based on the WW2-era MG42. When adopted into German service, the HK121 is known as the "MG5". The MG5 uses a gas-operated mechanism with a rotating bolt cammed by the bolt carrier, unlike the roller-locked bolt of the machine guns it was designed to replace.
- this machine gun is the large-calibre (7.62mm NATO) counterpart to the 5.56mm NATO MG4.
- features include: quick-change barrel with black oxide finish in several barrel lengths; bird-cage flash suppressor; open adjustable sights with accessory rail for mounting a variety of optical and night sights; folding bipod on the under-barrel gas tube; receiver and furniture finished in black or desert colour schemes; and this machine gun may be seen in a variety of roles and configurations, including LMG, bipod or tripod mount, vehicle mount with spade grips; or coaxial mount.

Model

- P11 is moulded into the left side of the pistol grip.
- the P11 was apparently designed in the 1970's for underwater use by combat swimmers or special "frogman" units.
- this model uses two polymer main units, the upper unit consists of five sealed and waterproof pre-loaded barrels that use an electric ignition system. The lower unit houses the trigger mechanism and battery pack.
- due to the specialized nature of this firearm and its intended users very little information is available. Reported to be in use by Germany, France, Italy, Israel, Norway, Denmark, Netherlands, United Kingdom and the U.S.A.

Manufacturer

- Heckler & Koch is a manufacturer that produces a full line of sporting firearms as well as dedicated weapon systems for use by law enforcement and military units.
- due to the nature of this particular firearm it is reported that Heckler & Koch has never officially acknowledged production of this model.

Action

- five barrels are contained in one complete top unit.

Serial Number

- serial number is marked on the lower left side of the pistol grip.

Calibre

- this firearm uses a special dart that is fired by means of an electrical ignition system.
- reported to have an effective range of 10 meters under water and 30 meters above.

Notes

Make

- "HECKLER & KOCH GMBH" over "OBERNDORF/N" and "MADE IN GERMANY" is marked on the left side of the slide.
- "HK" logo is molded into the grip panels.

Model

- "HK P7" is molded into the bottom of the grip panels.
- "P7" reflects the official designation given to the "Police Self-Loading Pistol" or "PSP" pistol in 1978 when a series of tests were conducted to procure a new police pistol.
- manufactured from 1978 to 1986, and from 1990 to 1999.
- because the front strap of the pistol acts as an articulating cocking device and slide release this model may also be known as the "Squeeze Cocker" or "P7 Squeeze Cocker".
- recoil operated in conjunction with a patented gas system that retards the recoiling mass of the slide.
- features include: small trigger guard (relative to subsequent variant models) lacks the heat sheild found on later variant models; double action trigger; cocking lever located on the front of the grip strap which cocks the action when the pistol grip is squeezed; detachable box magazine; the extractor functions as a loaded-chamber indicator; the magazine release is located at bottom of the hand grip; fixed barrel with fluted chamber and polygonal rifling; slide retaining button located at the left rear of the receiver/frame; matte black finish.

Manufacturer

- "HECKLER & KOCH GMBH" over "OBERNDORF/N" and "MADE IN GERMANY" is marked on the left side of the slide.
- "HK" logo is molded into the grip panels.

Action

- recoil operated in conjunction with a patented gas system that retards the recoiling mass of the slide.

Notes

Make

- "HK" logo and "HECKLER & KOCH GMBH" is usually marked on the left side of the slide.
- Heckler & Koch's "HK" logo may also be molded into the grip panels.

Model

- "Mod. PSP" was observed marked on the left side of the slide.
- it has been reported that only a small quantity (less than 1000 examples) were manufactured with "PSP" markings.
- "PSP" is the abbreviation for "Police Self-loading Pistol".
- recoil operated in conjunction with a patented gas system that retards the recoiling mass of the slide.
- features include: small trigger guard (relative to subsequent variant models) lacks the heat shield found on later variant models; double action trigger; cocking lever located on the front of the grip strap which cocks the action when the pistol grip is squeezed; detachable box magazine; the extractor functions as a loaded-chamber indicator; the magazine release is located at bottom of the hand grip; fixed barrel with fluted chamber and polygonal rifling; slide retaining button located at the left rear of the receiver/frame; matte black finish.

Manufacturer

- "HK" logo and "HECKLER & KOCH GMBH" over "OBERNDORF/N" is usually marked on the left side of the slide.

Action

- recoil operated in conjunction with a patented gas system that retards the recoiling mass of the slide.

Serial Number

- serial number rationalization unknown.
- observed sample serial numbers consisted of sequential numbers, marked on the right side of the receiver/frame above the trigger guard.
- the serial number may also be found marked on the slide above the serial number found on the receiver/frame.

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Shots

- detachable box magazine.

Remarks

- the "Police Self-Loading Pistol" or "PSP" pistol was designed in 1977 when a series of tests were conducted to procure a new police pistol. The original pistol submitted for testing did not have a model designation. When the head of the testing board asked what model was being tested it was decided to simply call the pistol the "Police Self-Loading Pistol" or "PSP". It is believed that only the first 239 pistols were made with "PSP" markings. After the design was deemed suitable for production it was given the designation "P7" (the seventh pistol design). This was consistent with the designations given to the other pistols under consideration, the Walther P38 was designated as the "P1", the Sig 210 as the "P2", the Astra 600/43 as the "P3", the Walther P4 and P5, and the Sig Sauer P225 which was the "P6".

Notes

Make

- make is marked on the firearm as "HK".

Model

- model identification found marked on left side of the receiver/frame magazine housing.
- markings include: SR9 (space) Serial number.
- serial number rationalization unknown.
- observed serial numbers include two digit prefix separated from a six digit number by a dash.
- this firearm is essentially an HK 91, modified by removal of the flash eliminator, without a bayonet mounting lug, having a radical "Dragunov" style skeleton butt which connects the "pistol grip" to the butt stock.
- the date of "PROOF" may be determined by a "last two digit" year code or an alpha character code under the proof mark.
- The "letter code" A = 0, B = 1, C = 2 etc., therefor IK = 89
- model introduced into North America circa 1990, discontinued and then re-introduced in 1997.

Manufacturer

- marked on the left side of the receiver/frame as "HK".

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Action	- delayed blow-back, roller locked mechanism with a fluted chamber to assist primary extraction.
Serial Number	- serial number rationalization unknown. - observed specimen serial number consisted of a two digit prefix followed by a dash followed by six digits without a suffix. NOTE: zeros are used as place holders to produce a six digit serial number. ie) 46-000001
Barrel	- barrel lengths exist that have not been captured here due to a lack of accurate references.
Calibre	- calibre may be marked as 7.62 X 51 or as CAL .308.
Shots	- detachable box magazine.
Other Markings	- the date off "PROOF" may be determined by a "last two digit" year code or an alpha character code under the proof mark. - The "letter code" - A = 0, B = 1, C = 2 etc, therefor IK = 89 - Most of these Heckler & Koch firearms will have been proofed at the Ulm Proof House in Germany, the identification symbol for this Proof House is a stylized antler.

Notes

Make - the H&K logo appears on the left side of the receiver/frame.

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Model	- the UMP is a submachine gun based on the G36 rifle concept; the majority of the receiver is constructed of lightweight plastics, with metal molded in at critical points. - this model is designed to be easily calibre converted, merely by changing barrels and bolts. - features include: synthetic folding buttstock, forearm with attachment points for slings, vertical grips, etc. and an upper receiver with attachments for optical or laser sights. - this model also features a quick-change muzzle attachment, that allows users to change between suppressors, muzzle brakes, etc., merely by depressing a knurled ring. - mode of fire includes semi automatic, two round burst and full automatic. - UMP mean "Universal Machine Pistol" , the word "universal" denotes the ability of the UMP to be converted in calibre.
Manufacturer	- the H&K logo appears on the left side of the receiver/frame.
Action	- Lower receiver groups also available in semi-automatic only, safe-semi-two-round burst, and safe-semi, and full-automatic.
Serial Number	- serial number rationalization as follows: three digit prefix which is the model code followed by a dash followed by six digits. - the serial number is located on the receiver/frame which is made from polymer plastic and are serialized in the same manner as the Glock pistols (milled recess with a metal plate inserted in the bottom of the recess; upon which the serial number is roll-stamped). - the part designated as the receiver/frame of this firearm is the upper receiver, identified by H&K as part number (assembled) 217503 and part number 217509 (disassembled). - model code 161 is the commercial designation for the UMP in 9MM LUGER circa 1999. - clients may specify serial number rationalizations for large contracts.
