Notes

Make

- "SANTA FE" is usually marked on the top of the receiver/frame.
- "SANTA FE" is a trade name used by Golden Staten Arms on M1 carbines made by "National Ordnance Incorporated".

Model

- this is a commercial variant of the standard U.S. military M1 Carbine.
- produced circa 1970.
- model designation may be marked on the top of the receiver/frame in front of the ejection opening usually in the format of "CAL.30 M1" or "CAL.30 M-1". It is usually necessary to determine the correct model through other features and markings.
- standard features usually include: parkerized finish on the receiver/frame and round barrel; fixed front sight; knob adjustable rear sights; push button or swivel lever safety on the right front of the trigger guard; push button magazine release in front of the safety; fixed wooden pistol grip or metal and wood MP-40 style bottom folding stock with separate upper handguard; left side mounted front sling swivel; may have an inletted oil holder/ sing attachment at the buttstock; front barrel band which may include a bayonet lug; may feature a cone shaped flash hider, a muzzle brake or a grenade launcher attached to the barrel.
- overall length with a 457mm (18") barrel is 903.73mm (35.58") and average weight is 2.49kgs (5.5lbs).

Manufacturer

- "NAT ORD" and/or "NAT'L ORD INC" and "S. EL MONTE CAL." may be marked on the top of the receiver/frame.
- "National Ordnance" was located in South El Monte, California, U.S.A. from 1965 to 1974.
- "National Ordnance" manufactured and assembled from parts military style firearms.

Action

- gas operated.

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Serial Number	- serial number may be marked on the left side of the breech ring or on the top of the receiver/frame just in front of the rear sight.
Calibre	- "CAL.30 M1" is marked on the front receiver/frame ring.
Shots	- detachable box magazine.
Remarks	- manufacturer names, codes or serial numbers are the surest method of identifying these firearms. Identifying marks are to be taken from the receiver/frame only. Wartime production facilities used many parts manufactured by other carbine producers as well as numerous sub-contractors. Carbines were often "arsenal refurbished", again making use of components for any number of different sources. Post war manufacturers also used many surplus military parts particularly in the early productions. As these parts ran out they began to use their own modern manufactured components. It is therefore possible to encounter a commercial carbine that will have military markings on some components as well as military manufactured firearms repaired or refurbished with modern commercial components. Further commercial identification can be done with features such as finish or stock style and material. The proliferation of modern accessory stocks, fitting, sights and other gadgets may also confuse the issue of specific model identification.

Notes

Make

- may be marked on the firearm.

Model

- introduced in 1975.
- the model designation may not be marked on the firearm.
- this model has been produced in several variations, although each remains a model 35E.
- features include:
- boxlock action with sideplates on the receiver/frame;
- blued barrels;
- the receiver/frame may be blued, coin finished, chromed or a combination of each finish;
- double crossbolt locking of the action;
- 7mm wide ventilated rib;

Notes

Make

- the make information was found marked on the inside of the magazine housing on the front inside portion as "SaskSten".

Model

- the SaskSten, MP3008, Rotary Magazine Model, resembles a Sten MK II, except that it feeds from Soumi submachine gun magazines in the vertical downwards position or a bottom mounted, high capacity drum magazine and has a wood, front pistol grip in the left hand horizontal position that is attached to the barrel sleeve. The SaskSten, Rotary Magazine Model, is capable of accepting parts from an original full-automatic Sten gun or the SaskSten, Sten MK II firearm with the exception of the bolt.
- the magazine housing is marked on the front inside portion "SaskSten MP3008". On the rear inside portion of the magazine housing, the serial number is marked on the right side, "CANADA" on the left side.
- this firearm design is distinguished by its all-metal welded construction and by a short barrel that can be replaced by pulling out a locking ratchet and unscrewing the barrel nut (attached to the ventilated barrel shroud); the magazine housing is permanently fixed in position.
- all metal surfaces are painted low-gloss black.

Manufacturer

- "SaskSten" was found marked on the inside of the magazine housing on the front inside portion.

Action

- advanced primer ignition, blowback operated.

Serial Number

- the serial number information on the firearm inspected was found on the magazine housing rear inside portion, right side.
- the serial number rationalization is unknown.
- the serial number of the firearm inspected consisted of two roman alphabet letters, followed by five digits, followed by a letter.

Barrel

- easily removable/replaceable barrel.

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Shots	- detachable box or drum magazine. - accepts all Suomi or PPSH submachine gun magazines and drums.
Canadian Law Comments	- this SaskSten model MP3008 Rotary Magazine Sten firearm, although manufactured to be a semi-automatic firearm, was found to be easily converted to fire full-automatic in a relatively short period of time with relative ease.
Other Markings	- the MAKE, MODEL, the serial number and the word "CANADA" were found marked on the inside surfaces of the magazine housing.

Notes

Make

- "SASKSTEN" was not marked on the firearm.

Model

- "STEN MARK 1*" submachine gun design was distinguished by its all-metal welded construction, fixed magazine housing and tubular metal stock.
- the SaskSten, Sten MARK 1* closely resembles a Sten model MARK 1* submachine gun and is capable of accepting parts from an original full-automatic Sten gun.
- design features observed: refurbished barrel, newly manufactured magazine housing assembly welded to tube assembly; newly manufactured tube assembly with the sear cut-out width reduced; the full auto selector was converted into a sear disconnect; re-manufactured breech block/bolt assembly with non-removable cocking handle and rear spigot extension; access holes between the tube assembly and trigger group casing are welded closed; selector is welded to the trigger group casing in the fire position; trigger mechanism cover drain hole is welded closed and assembled with no removable hardware; refurbished removable butt assembly; fixed sights; blued finish.

Action

- advanced primer ignition, blowback operated.

Serial Number

- serial number rationalization is unknown.
- observed serial number consisted of a two letter "SS" prefix followed by four numbers and "CA"suffix.

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Shots

- detachable box magazine.
- accepts all Sten submachine gun magazines.

Canadian Law Comments

- STEN Gun Receivers:
- The tube in which the breech bolt reciprocates and the magazine housing constitute the receiver/frame for all purposes of the Criminal Code, Section 2 definition of "firearm".
- For regulatory purposes, when the two component receiver/frame is further disassembled, the receiver/frame component known as the magazine housing where the manufacturer information and serial number are found, is used to establish the description for the purpose of firearms registration.
- The classification of this firearm as a semi-automatic firearm is based on the presumption that neither of the original two (2) receiver components were reused. This is what was understood to be the meaning of the claim by the manufacturer that the firearm is a "newly manufactured semi-automatic firearm".

Notes

Make

- "SASKSTEN" was not marked on the firearm.

Model

- the "STEN NEW ZEALAND LOCAL PATTERN" was a hybrid of the STEN model MARK 2 and MARK 3 submachine gun manufactured in New Zealand for the New Zealand Army.
- "STEN NEW ZEALAND LOCAL PATTERN" submachine gun design was distinguished by its all-metal welded construction, exposed short barrel that could not be readily replaced and fixed magazine housing.
- the SaskSten, Sten New Zealand Pattern closely resembles a Sten model New Zealand Local Pattern 3 submachine gun and is capable of accepting parts from an original full-automatic Sten gun.
- design features observed: refurbished barrel, newly manufactured magazine housing assembly welded to tube assembly; newly manufactured tube assembly with the sear cut-out width reduced; the full auto selector was converted into a sear disconnect; re-manufactured breech block/bolt assembly with non-removable cocking handle and rear spigot extension; access holes between the tube assembly and trigger group casing are welded closed; selector is welded to the trigger group casing in the fire position; trigger mechanism cover drain hole is welded closed and assembled with no removable hardware; refurbished removable butt assembly; fixed sights; blued finish.

Action

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Serial Number

- serial number was observed marked on the magazine housing upper surface.
- serial number rationalization is unknown.
- observed serial number consisted of a four letter "SSNZ" prefix followed by three numbers and "CA"suffix.
- serial number was marked with a tool similar to an electric pencil and is very shallow.

Shots

- detachable box magazine.
- accepts all Sten submachine gun magazines.

Canadian Law Comments

- STEN Gun Receivers:
- The tube in which the breech bolt reciprocates and the magazine housing constitute the receiver/frame for all purposes of the Criminal Code, Section 2 definition of "firearm".
- For regulatory purposes, when the two component receiver/frame is further disassembled, the receiver/frame component known as the magazine housing where the manufacturer information and serial number are found, is used to establish the description for the purpose of firearms registration.
- The classification of this firearm as a semi-automatic firearm is based on the presumption that neither of the original two (2) receiver components were reused. This is what was understood to be the meaning of the claim by the manufacturer that the firearm is a "newly manufactured semi-automatic firearm".

Notes

Make

- the Make is not marked on the firearm.

Model

- the SaskSten, Sterling Mark 4 Police Carbine Prototype is a copy of a Sterling, MARK 4, Police Carbine which in its own right was a semi automatic copy of a Sterling, Submachine Gun MARK 4.
- the model designation is not marked on the firearm.
- this firearm is a close copy of a Sterling, MARK 4, Police Carbine. There are no substantive differences between the UK parent Submachine Gun and the Police Carbine other than minor differences in the trigger mechanism.
- features include: - overall black paint finish; under folding metalic stock; tubular metal construction; the trigger mechnism detaches in its entirety with a single disassembly pin.

Manufacturer

- the Manufacturer's name is not marked on the firearm.

Action

- blowback operated.

Serial Number

- serial number rationalization unknown.
- the serial number on a sample firearm - the SaskSten Prototype, was lightly inscribed in a manner similar to electric pencil.
- a observed sample serial number consisted of the prefix "SSS" followed by the Roman alphabet leters "PC" followed by the Arabic numeral "2" followed by the Roman Alphabet suffix letters "CA".
- example - SSSPC2CA.

Shots

- detachable box magazine.
- accepts all Sterling submachine gun magazines and all Canadian SMG C1 magazines.

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Canadian Law Comments - the SaskSten, Sterling MARK 4 Police Carbine Prototype, serial number SSSPC2CA, is easily and readily convertible to full automatic fire with relative ease in a short time period by simply replacing the entire trigger group or by manipulating the trigger to prevent the trigger and/or sear from resetting to hold the bolt to the rear.

Notes

Make

- "J.P. Sauer & Sohn, Suhl", "Sauer & Sohn, Suhl" or a variation thereof will be marked on the barrels and/or receiver/frame.

Model

- this is a generic entry for Sauer made Drillings that have no model designation marked on them.
- this is a typical top break, "drilling-style", three-barreled combination gun, usually combining side by side shotgun barrels over a single rifle barrel.
- features may include; box lock action with false side plates; top lever opening; Greener-type cross-bolt locking system; Greener-style side mounted safety on left side of receiver/frame; barrel selector switch on left side plate or on top of the tang; double triggers with set front trigger; cocking indicators for each barrel located on the top of the receiver/frame and a separate rifle barrel extractor.

Manufacturer

- "J.P. Sauer & Sohn, Suhl", "Sauer & Sohn, Suhl" or a variation thereof will be marked on the barrels and/or receiver/frame.

Action

- hinged barrel design.
- barrel assembly consists of three barrels: one rifled barrel and two smoothbore barrels or two rifled barrels and one smoothbore barrel.

Serial Number

- serial number is marked on the receiver/frame flats.
- observed serial numbers had five to seven numbers without a letter prefix or suffix.

33135 - 1	177 PELLET	1	457	Non-Restricted CC 2 "firearm"	Manufacturer Specifications and Commercial Customization

Notes

Make

- Savage actually imported these rifles from Gamo in Spain; "Savage" may or may not be marked on them.

Model

- introduced in 1998.
- features include: walnut stained hardwood stock with checkered pistol grip; ventilated rubber recoil pad; manual safety located directly ahead of a two stage trigger; hooded front sight on ramp; adjustable rear sight with elevator and four choices of notch shape; and blued steel receiver grooved for scope mounts.
- this rifle was also sold as a "package" (including a 4-power telescopic sight) as the "1000GXP".
- when sold by Gamo, this rifle is known as the "Hunter 880 S".

Manufacturer

- manufacturer not marked on the firearm; marked "Made In Spain".

Action

- discharges a projectile at a muzzle velocity exceeding 152.4mps and a muzzle energy exceeding 5.7 Joules.

Serial Number

- serial number is marked on the left side of the barrel.
- observed serial number consisted of number "04", a dash (-), "1C", a dash (-), six numbers, a dash (-), and "98".
- Spanish government instituted a new system for firearm's serial numbering in 1995. This system incorporated the gunmaker/manufacturer code, weapon code, serial number sequence, and year of manufacturer.
- serial number break down: the first two numbers (04) are the code for Gamo, the next number and letter (1C) are the code for an air carbine/rifle, the next six numbers are the serial number sequence, and the last two numbers (98) are the year of manufacture.

Notes

Make

- marked on the top right side of barrel, toward the breech: "SAVAGE ARMS INC., WESTFIELD MASS."

Model

- introduced in 1990; usually marked over the chamber on the left side of the barrel and/or on the receiver: SAVAGE MODEL 110 (new models since about 1998 usually not marked 110 FP: "F" denotes fibreglass stock in matte black graphite polymer with checkered pistol grip and forend, "P" denotes "Police" tactical rifle).
- older models until about 1997 may be marked on the right-rear side of the barrel, example: "SAVAGE MODEL 110FP SERIES X".
- features include: matte black finish overall; heavy target barrel; action drilled and tapped for scope mounts; plain or adjustable trigger; usually not equipped with iron sights.

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Manufacturer	- marked on the barrel.
Action	- turn-bolt design.
Serial Number	- one letter and up to 6 numeral digits, found on the left side receiver.

Model

- introduced in 1974.
- "SAVAGE MODEL 111" is usually marked on the side of the barrel or receiver/frame.
- this screen is a generic entry for the Savage model 111. Other model 111 entries exist which might better describe the sub-model variants, example
1: MODEL 111FNS (denotes model 111F, NS = No Sights),
2: MODEL 111GLC (denotes model 111G, L = left-hand action, C = detachable Clip magazine)
- "111" early models may be followed by a letter suffix indicating Series modification within the model, example: MODEL 111 SERIES E, or 111E.
- general features:
- stock: graphite/fiberglass or walnut finished hardwood with/without Monte Carlo cheek-piece, checkered pistol grip and forend, rubber recoil pad, sling swivel studs.
- receiver and barrel: receiver drilled and tapped for scope, sliding thumb safety located at the rear of the receiver beside the tang; barrel with/without hooded blade front sight and removable elevation adjustable folding rear sight.
- rifles of this series may have a left-hand action (indicated by a "L" in the model code), or a right-handed, manually operated, turn-bolt action.

Action

- turn-bolt design.

Serial Number

- serial number is marked on the side of the receiver/frame.
- serial numbers observed consisted of a letter "J" prefix and six numbers.

Calibre

- calibre is usually marked on the side of the barrel.

Shots

- rifles of this series may have detachable box magazine (indicated by a "C" in the model code), or an integral non-detachable box magazine.
