Notes

Make

- "Thompson / Center Arms", or "T/C Custom Shop" and "TC" logo is usually marked on the firearm.

Model

- introduced in 1996.
- "ENCORE" is marked on the firearm.
- "Pistol" has been incorporated into the model designation to differentiate it from the "Encore Rifle" which is also available on the market by Thompson/Center Arms.
- "Encore Pistol" is a break-open single-shot pistol designed for hunting and metallic silhouette competition.
- "Encore Pistol" is based in large part on Thompson/Center's earlier "Contender" design.
- features include: carbon steel or stainless steel construction; open adjustable sights (some versions come with ventilated ribs and shotgun-style bead sights); interchangeable round barrel; front hinged receiver/frame with opening mechanism built into the hinged trigger-guard; walnut or synthetic forearm and anatomical pistol grip; blued or stainless finish.
- this pistol differs mainly from the "Contender" in that the Encore is a strengthened design with built-in ledges on the sides of the receiver/frame; a newer "Contender" pistol, the "G2 Contender" will also have receiver/frame ledges, but smaller than those seen on the Encore.
- available in a "Hunters Package" that includes a factory mounted scope and a carrying case.
- also available with an accessory, muzzle-loading barrel in calibre 50 PERCUSSION or as a complete muzzle-loading pistol as the Encore 209 x 50 Magnum.
- overall length with a 305 mm (12") barrel is 419 mm (16.5"), average weight is 1.93 kgs (4 1/4 lbs).

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Action	- hinged barrel design.
Serial Number	- serial number is usually marked on the receiver/frame, behind the hammer. - serial number rationalization is unknown. - observed serial number consisted of five numbers without a letter prefix or suffix. - observed serial number consisted of six numbers without a letter prefix or suffix.
Barrel	- barrels for the "Encore" are not interchangeable with the Thompson/Center Arms "Contender". - barrels for the "Encore Pistol" and "Encore Rifle" do interchange with one another.

Notes

Make

- "TIKKA" is marked on the side of the receiver/frame.
- "TIKKA" is a trade name used by Oy Tikkakoski AB of Tikkakoski, Finland prior to 1989.
- "TIKKA" is a trade name used by Sako Ltd. of Riihimaki, Finland since 1989.

Model

- "TIKKA M55" is stamped into the left side of the receiver.

Manufacturer

- stamped on left side of barrel.

Action

- Bolt action derived from Mauser M 1898. Differs in that the safety lug is incorperated into the bolt handle, which in turn mortises into the receiver.

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Serial Number	- the model number 55 plus a 0 forms 3 digit prefix to serial number further identifying action type
Calibre	- stamped on left side of barrel.
Shots	- 3 shot standard detachable box magazine, 5 and 10 shot were also available
Other Markings	- Tikka Arsenal cartouche, stylized T in a circle appears on the right side of the receiver ring.
Remarks	- Tikka Model M55 has a safety catch located behind the bolt handle on the right rear of the receiver. Bolt release on the opposite side. Magazine release located in the trigger guard ahead of the trigger. Model variations result from changes in barrel weights, lengths, and contour as well as stock design, quality and finish. This model is distinguished by a stock with a roll over style Monte Carlo cheek piece, a swept pistol grip cap and forend tip made of exotic wood. The stock has a ventilated butt pad with white line spacer. The finish of the stock and the bluing of the rifle are of a higher standard.

Notes

Make

- "TIKKA" is marked on the side of the receiver/frame.
- "TIKKA" is a trade name used by Oy Tikkakoski AB of Tikkakoski, Finland prior to 1989.
- "TIKKA" is a trade name used by Sako Ltd. of Riihimaki, Finland since 1989.

Model

- Tikka M65 stamped into the left side of the receiver. Tikka Arsenal cartouche, stylized T in a circle appears on the right side of the receiver ring. Calibre and Manufacturer's name stamped on left side of barrel.

Action

- Bolt action derived from Mauser M 1898. Differs in that the safety lug is incorperated into the bolt handle, which in turn mortises into the receiver. The bolt can be distinguished from the Model M55 by the presence of dual opposed rear locking lugs and dual gas vents in the bolt body

Serial Number

- the model number 65 plus a 0 forms 3 digit prefix to serial number further identifying action type.

Remarks

- Tikka Model M65 has a safety catch located behind the bolt handle on the right rear of the receiver. Bolt release on the opposite side. Magazine release located in the trigger guard ahead of the trigger. Model variations result from changes in barrel weights, lengths, and contour as well as stock design, quality and finish. This model is distinguished by a heavy barrel. The stock is furnished with a roll over style Monte Carlo cheek piece.

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Model	- "M695" stamped on side of receiver/frame. - calibre and maker marked on side of barrel. - this is a generic model entry for the Tikka M695 rifle and is designed to encompass any and all of the Whitetail model series of product names that may be used to identify these rifles other than M695, eg., "Whitetail Hunter", "Synthetic Sporter" etc.; refer AKA screen for complete listing. - "product literature-type" model names as already referenced DO NOT appear on the firearm. - characterized by free-floating barrel, bolt release on left rear of receiver, thumb safety on right rear of the receiver/frame, magazine release located in the stock ahead of the trigger. - also available in a left hand version.
Manufacturer	- marked on the receiver/frame and/or the barrel.
Serial Number	- marked on left side of receiver/frame. - model number "M695" and "RH" or "LH" (right or left-handed action) are stamped immediately preceding the serial number. - the model number and designation do not constitute part of the serial number.
Shots	- detachable box magazine.
Remarks	- the Tikka M695 series has a safety catch located behind the bolt handle on the right rear of the receiver with the bolt release located on the opposite side. - safety operates similarly to the M658. - magazine release located in the stock ahead of the trigger guard. - the receiver is semi-hexagonal in shape to save on manufacturing costs. - unlike the M658 the M695 series of receivers does not have a polymer bushing in the rear receiver ring to serve as a bolt guide but rides directly on the surface of the receiver. - the rifle is available with many different sight or sight mounting systems, stocking-material options, and metal finish or type; i.e blued or stainless.

- "TIKKA" is marked on the side of the receiver/frame.
- "TIKKA" is a trade name used by Oy Tikkakoski AB of Tikkakoski, Finland prior to 1989.
- "TIKKA" is a trade name used by Sako Ltd. of Riihimaki, Finland since 1989.

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Model	- "TIKKA T3" is marked on left side of receiver/frame. - importation into North America began in 2003. - features include: blued or stainless steel barrel; scope mounts included; free-floating barrel; bolt release on left rear of receiver/frame; thumb safety on right rear of receiver/frame; magazine release located in the stock ahead of the trigger; laminated, high grade walnut or synthetic stock. - the bolt mechanism has an unconventional front locking lug system which locks at the four and ten o'clock position rather than the normal six and twelve o'clock position of most other Mauser-type bolt actions; this results in a short 70 degree bolt lift to manipulate the mechanism; the normal bolt lift of most other types of bolt action rifles is 90 degrees. The bolt locks into the receiver/frame and has locking lugs which are tapered at the front; plunger ejector and hook extractor. - available as the "T3 Hunter" with a walnut stock and a blued finish. - available as the "T3 Lite" with a lightweight synthetic stock and a blued finish. - available as the "T3 Lite Stainless" with a lightweight synthetic stock and a stainless steel receiver/frame and barrel. - available as the "T3 Laminated Stainless" with a laminated wood stock and a stainless steel receiver/frame and barrel. - available as the "T3 Battue" with a walnut stock and a blued finish. This version also features a shorter barrel (490mm) with a quarter rib mounted fibre optic TruGlo rear sight and a hooded front sight. - available as the "T3 Big Boar" (introduced in 2005) with a blued finish and black synthetic stock that features a straight comb. - available as the "T3 Super Varmint" (introduced in 2005) with a stainless steel action/barrel and black synthetic stock that features an adjustable comb. This model also has a picatinney rail attached to the top of the receiver/frame for mounting a variety of accessories.
Manufacturer	- the name of the manufacturer is marked on the receiver/frame and/or the barrel.
Serial Number	- marked on left side of receiver/frame following the model designation. - alpha/numeric have been observed.
Calibre	- calibre is marked on barrel.
Shots	- detachable box magazine. - magazines are available in a standard "flush" length (does not protrude from the stock) or as an extended magazine with increased capacity. - magazine holds 3, 4, 5 or 6 rounds depending on the model and calibre.

Model	- "TIKKA T3" is marked on left side of receiver/frame. "Tactical" may not be marked on the firearm. - features include: cold hammer forged free-floating chrome-moly barrel; black matte manganese phosphatized metal surfaces; bolt release on left rear of receiver/frame; thumb safety on right rear of receiver/frame; magazine release located in the stock ahead of the trigger; adjustable cheek-piece with ambidextrous adjusting knob; polypropylene polymer stock; single stage adjustable trigger (optional single set trigger available); black rubber recoil pad; picatinny rail compatible with weaver or US standard military specifications; scope mounts, muzzle break, bipod and heavy duty swivels studs are optional accessories. - the bolt mechanism has an unconventional front locking lug system which locks at the four and ten o'clock position rather than the normal six and twelve o'clock position of most other Mauser-type bolt actions; this results in a short 70 degree bolt lift to manipulate the mechanism. The bolt locks into the receiver/frame and has locking lugs which are tapered at the front; plunger ejector and hook extractor. - overall length with a 600mm barrel in magnum action 300 WIN MAG caliber is 1110mm (43.7") average weight is 3.67kg (8.1lbs).
Manufacturer	- marked on the receiver/frame and/or the barrel.
Action	- turn bolt action.
Serial Number	- marked on left side of receiver/frame following the model designation.
Calibre	- marked on barrel. - rifling characteristics in 300 WIN MAG caliber: 1 turn in 279mm (11").
Shots	- detachable box magazine, straight feeding single column. - extra "color coded" magazines for use of different load are available as an option.

Notes

Make

- "TIKKA" is marked on the side of the receiver/frame.
- "TIKKA" is a trade name used by Oy Tikkakoski AB of Tikkakoski, Finland prior to 1989.
- "TIKKA" is a trade name used by Sako Ltd. of Riihimaki, Finland since 1989.

Model

- "TIKKA T3" is marked on left side of receiver/frame. "Varmint" may not be marked on the firearm.
- features include: cold hammer forged blued free-floating "bull" barrel; bolt release on left rear of receiver/frame; thumb safety on right rear of receiver/frame; magazine release located in the stock ahead of the trigger; high comb and wide forearm injection molded synthetic stock; single stage adjustable trigger; black rubber recoil pad and scope mounts included.
- the bolt mechanism has an unconventional front locking lug system which locks at the four and ten o'clock position rather than the normal six and twelve o'clock position of most other Mauser-type bolt actions; this results in a short 70 degree bolt lift to manipulate the mechanism. The bolt locks into the receiver/frame and has locking lugs which are tapered at the front; plunger ejector and hook extractor.
- overall length with a 600mm barrel in medium action 22-250 REM caliber is 1110mm (43.7") average weight is 3.58kg (7.9lbs).

Manufacturer

- marked on the receiver/frame and/or the barrel.

Action

- turn bolt action.

Serial Number

- marked on left side of receiver/frame following the model designation.

Calibre

- marked on barrel.
- rifling characteristics in 223 REM caliber: 1 turn in 203mm (8").

Shots

- detachable box magazine.
- magazines are available in a standard "flush" length (does not protrude from the stock) or as an extended magazine with increased capacity.

Notes

Make

- "TIKKA" is marked on the side of the receiver/frame.
- "TIKKA" is a trade name used by Oy Tikkakoski AB of Tikkakoski, Finland prior to 1989.
- "TIKKA" is a trade name used by Sako Ltd. of Riihimaki, Finland since 1989.

Model

- introduced in 2016
- "TIKKA T3x" is marked on left side of receiver/frame.
- features include: blued or stainless steel barrel; hooded front sight and ramped rear sight or drilled for scope or integral accessory rail; free-floating barrel; bolt release on left rear of receiver/frame; thumb safety on right rear of receiver/frame; magazine release located in the stock ahead of the trigger; laminated, high grade walnut or synthetic stock with recoil pad.
- the bolt mechanism has an unconventional front locking lug system which locks at the four and ten o'clock position rather than the normal six and twelve o'clock position of most other Mauser-type bolt actions; this results in a short 70 degree bolt lift to manipulate the mechanism; the normal bolt lift of most other types of bolt action rifles is 90 degrees. The bolt locks into the receiver/frame and has locking lugs which are tapered at the front; plunger ejector and hook extractor.
- overall length for the 510mm (20") barrel is 1020mm (40.25"), average weight is 3.3kgs (7.3 lbs).

Manufacturer

- "MADE IN FINDLAND" is marked on the receiver/frame and/or the barrel.

Action

- turn bolt operated.

Serial Number

- marked on left side of receiver/frame following the model designation.
- example observed with a letter prefix and five numbers.

Shots

- detachable box magazine.

Model

- the Browning M1919A4 firearm was discontinued by TNW in 2008.
- "BROWNING M1919A4" is not marked on the receiver/frame.
- "US GOVERNMENT", "MODEL 1919 A4/A6 MACHINE GUN", "CALIBER ## SEMI AUTO", VERONIA OR" and "SER NO 000###" may be marked on the right side of the receiver/frame.
- "BROWNING M1919A4" is a re-creation of the United States Service, .30 calibre, Browning Machine Gun, M1919A4.
- the Browning Machine Gun was named after the inventor, John M. Browning.
- "BROWNING M1919A4" is capable of semi-automatic fire only.
- the Browning Machine Gun M1919 could be configured into sub-models for different roles. A partial list of the possible configurations follows:

a) Browning Machine Gun M1919A4:
- M1919A4 is an air-cooled firearm which may be found in flexible configuration for infantry use and is normally fired from a tripod, or mounted on an armoured fighting vehicle.
- M1919A4 version feeds belts of ammunition from the left side.

b) Browning Machine Gun M1919A5:
- M1919A5 is an air-cooled firearm designed for fixed configuration and use in an armoured fighting vehicle. Rate of fire 550 to 650 shots per minute.
- M1919A5 version feeds belts of ammunition from the left side.

c) Browning Machine Gun M1919A6:
- M1919A6 is an air-cooled firearm which may be configured for infantry use with a carrying handle, bipod and shoulder stock.
- M1919A6 version feeds belts of ammunition from the left side.

Manufacturer

- "TNW" and "INC" in an oval is marked on the right side plate of the receiver/frame.

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Type	- designed and manufactured in semi-automatic fire configuration. - the right-hand, side-plate has a shoulder not found on full automatic versions, (see images). - this side plate was manufactured with the shoulder to prevent full automatic parts from being installed.
Action	- "short" recoil operated. - the right-hand, side-plate has a shoulder not found on full automatic versions, see images. - this side plate was manufactured with the shoulder to prevent full automatic parts from being installed.
Serial Number	- the serial number rationalization is unknown. - serial number observed consisted of six digits without sprefix or suffix - zeros are used as place holders to achieve six digits.
Calibre	- calibre is marked on the right side of the receiver/frame.
Shots	- belt-fed firearm.
Canadian Law Comments	- Browning Machine Gun receivers: - The five sided box consisting of top and bottom plates, left and right side plates and the front trunnion block is the receiver/frame for all purposes of the Criminal Code, Section 2 definition of "firearm". - For regulatory purposes, when the five sided box receiver/frame is further disassembled, the receiver/frame component plate where the manufacturer information and serial number are found, is used to establish the description for the purpose of firearms registration. - The classification of this firearm as a semi-automatic firearm is based on the presumption that none of the original five (5) receiver components were reused. This is what was understood to be the meaning of the claim by the manufacturer that the firearm is a "newly manufactured semi-automatic firearm".
Remarks	- this firearm is a re-creation of the United States Service, 30 calibre, Browning Machine Gun, M1919A4, in semi-automatic fire configuration. - the receiver has been designed and manufactured to prevent the use of full-auto parts. - the manufacturer uses surplus US parts to build receivers/frames into complete firearms.

Canadian Law Comments

- Browning Machine Gun receivers:
(1) - the five sided box consisting of top and bottom plates, left and right side plates and the front trunnion block is the receiver/frame for all purposes of the Criminal Code, Section 2 definition of "firearm".
(2) - for regulatory purposes, when the five sided box receiver/frame is further disassembled, the receiver/frame component plate where the manufacturer information and serial number are found, is used to establish the description for the purpose of firearms registration.
(3) - the classification of a semi-automatic firearm is based on the presumption that none of the original five (5) receiver components were reused. This is what was understood to be the meaning of the claim by the manufacturer that the firearm is a "newly manufactured semi-automatic firearm".
(4) - the Criminal Code PART III, Section 84 para (c) definition - prohibited firearm means, "an automatic firearm, whether or not it has been altered to discharge only one projectile with one pressure of the trigger".

Other Markings

- this firearm was constructed utilizing at least one component of the original receiver/frame of a 50 Calibre Browning Machine Gun, Model M2 or M3 Aircraft Basic. The original firearm serial number can be found marked on the top plate (of the five sided box receiver) and is consistent in location, format, size, style and font with an original Canadian Arsenals Limited (CAL) produced 50 Calibre Browning Machine Gun, Model M2 or M3 Aircraft Basic machine gun.

Remarks

- TNW's firearm is a re-creation of the United States Service, Browning Machine Gun, Calibre 50, M2 HB, (in theory) in semi automatic fire configuration.
- TNW receiver's right side plate has been designed and manufactured to prevent the use of full-automatic breech block.
- TNW has used surplus military machine gun parts to build the receiver/frame into a complete firearms.

Notes

Make

- "TNW" and "INC" in an oval is marked on the right side plate of the receiver/frame.

Model

- "US GOVERNMENT, MODEL M37 SEMI AUTO 30 CALIBRE" is marked on the right side of the receiver/frame.
- the TechNetWork (TNW) "US GOVERNMENT, MODEL M37 SEMI AUTO 30 CALIBRE" firearm is a semi automatic re-creation of the United States Service, Browning Machine Gun, M37, which is itself a variation of the Browning Machine Gun M1919 (A4-A5-A6), series of machine guns.
- "GUN, MACHINE, CAL .30, M37" is configured as a co-axial, turret mounted machine gun and may be reconfigured easily to a flexible helicopter door gun.
- the main difference between the Browning M1919 family of machine guns and the M37 is the ability to feed belts from left or right side, in a manner similar to the 50 Calibre Browning M2 series of machine guns.
- features include: perforated barrel jacket having a muzzle booster cap or cone shaped flash hider; the rectangular receiver/frame is riveted steel plate, with a folding front sight bracket attached to the front of the receiver/frame and a ladder type rear sight mounted inside a protective bracket which is an integral part of the top plate; twin cover latches are located one on each side at the rear of the cover; right side mounted breech bolt retracting bar; back plate mounted pistol grip and buffer group; twin spade triggers protruding from the back plate (similar to the 50 Calibre Browning M2); bottom front and rear mounting points; parkerized finish.

Manufacturer

- "TNW" and "INC" in an oval is marked on the right side plate of the receiver/frame.

Action

- short recoil operated.

Serial Number

- sample serial number observed - 000100.

Shots

- Belt fed firearm.

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Canadian Law Comments

- Browning Machine Gun receivers (and other similar guns with a box type receiver construction)
- The five sided box consisting of top and bottom plates, left and right side plates and the front trunnion block is the receiver/frame for all purposes of the Criminal Code, Section 2 definition of "firearm".
- For Regulatory purposes, when the five sided box receiver/frame is further disassembled, the receiver/frame component plate where the manufacturer information and serial number are found, is used to establish the description for the purpose of firearms registration.
- The classification of this firearm as a semi automatic firearm is based on the presumption that none of the original five (5) receiver components were reused. This is what was understood to be the meaning of the claim by the manufacturer that the firearm is a "newly manufactured as a semi-automatic firearm".

Remarks

- this firearm is a re-creation of the United States Service, Browning Machine Gun, M37, in semi automatic fire configuration.
- the receiver has been designed and manufactured to prevent the use of full-auto parts.
- the manufacturer uses surplus military parts to build the semi-automatic receiver/frame into complete firearms.

Notes

Make

- "TNW INC" is marked on the side of the receiver/frame.
- "TNW" is an acronym formed from the full name of the business which is TechNetWork Firearms Incorporated.

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Model	- "M31 SA 9x19" is marked on the left side of the receiver/frame. - "SUOMI" may be marked on the left side of the rear sight assembly. - this firearm resembles a Suomi Model 1931 submachine gun with near precision and is capable of accepting magazines from an original full-automatic Suomi Model 1931 submachine gun. - as of 2012, there are two basic variations of this firearm model, both identified with the same model name, the original variation is striker fired and is manufactured in semi automatic configuration, the second variation is hammer fired and incorporates a different breech bolt, both variants utilize spring loaded firing pins, both firearms function in "simple blow back", both Incorporate a newly manufactured steel receiver/frame and both firearm variants are manufactured in semi automatic configuration. - this firearm is also available as a "buid-it-yourself kit" firearm. - features include: muzzle brake; ventilated barrel jacket; blade front sight, tangent adjustable rear sight; round, tubular receiver/frame; right side cocking handle and sliding safety catch mounted in the front of the trigger guard; wood one-piece buttstock; steel butt plate.
Manufacturer	- "TNW" INC" is marked on the right side of the receiver/frame. - "TNW" is an acronym formed from the full name of the business which is TechNetWork Firearms Incorporated.
Type	- also available as a "kit" firearm in which the TYPE and ACTION may not be the same as the firearm described by this FRT Record.
Action	- blowback operated, may be found in striker fired or hammer fired versions, both versions incorporate a retractable, spring loaded, firing pin. - the firing cycle commences with the bolt in the forward position.
Serial Number	- serial number is marked on the left side of the receiver/frame. - serial numbers have been observed both with six arabic numerals without prefix or suffix and with a letter prefix (Y) followed by six arabic numerals. - bear in mind that this firearm is also available as a "kit" in which the receiver tube is unfinished. In this case the serial number may not follow any rationalization; being unique to the manufacturer.
Barrel	- this firearm is available in two barrel lengths, one has a barrel extension approximately 95MM in length. - by actual measurement, the barrel and barrel extension is 414MM in length. - a second barrel length was manufactured specifically for the Canadian marketplace measuring 476MM in length.
Calibre	- "9x19" is marked on the left side of the receiver/frame.
Shots	- detachable box or drum magazine. - the M31 will take a number of various types of Suomi magazines and drum. magazines and cartridge magazines from other firearms such as the Russian or Chinese Model PPSH 41, Yugoslavian M49 and M49/57.
Canadian Law Comments	- Criminal Code of Canada PART III, Section 84. (2) "the length of a barrel of a firearm is b) in any other case, the distance from the muzzle of the barrel to and including the chamber, but does not include the length of any component, part or accessory including any component, part or accessory designed or intended to suppress the muzzle flash or reduce recoil". - when measured by the cleaning rod method, a barrel length of 414MM will be obtained, as this firearm has a barrel extension. This barrel extension is approximately 95MM in length which, by Canadian Law, cannot be included in the length of the barrel. Thusly, the barrel length of this firearm, for all administrative purposes of The Firearms Act and the Criminal Code, is 319MM in length. - for Canadian consumption a special barrel which is 476MM in length has been supplied to the Canadian Importer.
Remarks	- as of 2012, there are two basic variations of this firearm model, both identified with the same model name, the original variation is striker fired and is manufactured in semi automatic configuration, the second variation is hammer fired and incorporates a different breech bolt, both variants utilizing spring loaded, retractable, firing pins, both function in "simple blow back", both ncorporate a newly manufactured steel receiver/frame and both of which are manufactured in semi automatic configuration. - this firearm is also available as a "buid-it-yourself kit" firearm.

Notes

Make

- the make does not appear on the firearm.
- this make is appended to firearms designed by Fedor Vasiliyevich Tokarev, a noted Russian arms designer who did most of his work during the pre-World War Two era, and was primarily responsible for the design of the T-33 pistol and the SVT-38/40 families of rifles.

Model

- "KO-SVT" is marked on the firearm in Cyrillic; the Cyrillic representation of "KO-SVT" resembles "KO-CBT". "KO-SVT" is an acronym for "Karabin Okhotnichy - Samozaryadny Vintovka Tokareva", or "Carbine, Hunting - Self-loading Rifle Tokarev".
- this is a conversion of surplus Tokarev SVT-40 rifles into hunting rifles, performed by Molot, with new manufacturer and model markings.
- features include: standard Tokarev SVT-40 layout and operation; blued finish; multi-slot muzzle brake; hooded open adjustable sights (a rail for mounting optical sights is added to the left side); under-barrel cleaning rod; laminated wooden pistol-grip stock and handguard.

Manufacturer

- "MOLOT" and/or the Vyatsky Polyany logo of a Cyrillic "VP" (resembling "Bn") is marked on the firearm.

Action

- gas-operated.

Serial Number

- numbered on the receiver/frame.

Shots

- detachable box magazine.

Notes

Make

- Tokarev is not marked on the firearm.
- Tokarev design is credited to Fedor V. Tokarev.
- Tokarev pistol was approved for service in Russia in 1930 as the Pistolet Tula-Tokarev or "TT-30".
- Tokarev pistol was originally manufactured at the Russian State Arsenal, Tula.
- Tokarev pistol was improved in 1933 and redesignated the "TT-33".
- Tokarev pistols have been manufactured in many countries including Bulgaria, China, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Hungary, Poland, Romania, Russia and Yugoslavia.

Model

- model designation normally found on the top of the slide.
- this is a Soviet Military firearm design, essentially similar to a Tokarev Model TT33.
- this firearm is an "export" model, without manufactuerer's identifying markings or any indication of country of origin to be found on the firearm.
- manufactured by the Chinese State Arsenals.

Action

- recoil operated.

Serial Number

- found on both the receiver/frame on the left side above the hand grips and the top of the slide.

Other Markings

- any and all markings which could identify the manufacturer and the country of origin are missing on this model.

Remarks

- this is a Soviet Military firearm design, essentially similar to a Tokarev Model TT33.
- the general design is unusual in that the firing mechanism, comprising the trigger to the hammer, may be removed "en-bloc" for maintenance.
- the finish of the firearm is utilitarian.

Manufacturer

- "11" inside an oval is marked on the top of the slide.

Serial Number

- the master serial number is located on left hand side of receiver/frame above the grip plate (letters and numbers).
- serial number may also be repeated in other locations.

Calibre

- special cartridge adapters must be used in order to fire 22 Long Rifle Rimfire ammunition in this firearm.
- this adapter resembles the 7.62 x 25 mm Russian Tokarev cartridge externally, and has a 22 LR chambre in the bore.

Shots

- detachable box magazine.

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Other Markings

- factory designation marked on the top mid-slide 11 (in a circle), with year-date 1955 and serial number (letters and numbers)

Remarks

- This firearm is basicly the standard Soviet TT33 pistol, which has been largely modified to function in blowback operation with the lower recoil energy of the 22 LR ammunition: the barrel locking system has been removed, the slide return spring is lightened, and the firing pin and extractor location has been altered from center-fire to rim-fire. A special cartridge adapter (which resembles the 7.62 x 25 mm Russian Tokarev cartridge) must be used in order to fire 22 Long Rifle Rimfire rounds in this firearm. This model in 22 LR calibre requires the adapter to function, and when the magazine is loaded with adapters installed with 22 LR ammunition, the firearm functions as a semi-automatic, loading, firing and ejecting the adapter and spent cartridge (see calibre notes). The firearm is virtually useless without these adapters, and requires they be retrieved for further use.

Make

- Tokarev is not marked on the firearm.
- Tokarev design is credited to Fedor V. Tokarev.
- Tokarev pistol was approved for service in Russia in 1930 as the Pistolet Tula-Tokarev or "TT-30".
- Tokarev pistol was originally manufactured at the Russian State Arsenal, Tula.
- Tokarev pistol was improved in 1933 and redesignated the "TT-33".
- Tokarev pistols have been manufactured in many countries including Bulgaria, China, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Hungary, Poland, Romania, Russia and Yugoslavia.

Model

- usually marked on the right side of the slide: SUPER 12 (12 in circle)
- usually supplied with barrels and magazines in both 9mm PARABELLUM and in 7.62mm TT (7.62mm Tokarev).
- manufactured in Bulgaria, Factory 10.
- the Bulgarian firearm has slightly different features from that of Hungarian manufacture. As a general indication: the Bulgarian pistol, Factory 10, has a two piece pistol grip with a metal backstrap (as on the Walther model PP pistol); and generally has no safety catch. However, these identification features can only be used as in 90% of the time, as this and the Hungarian factory are known to have sub-contracted for each other at different times and even to have manufactured for each other, complete with markings as specified by the customer.

Manufacturer

- manufacturer's logo is marked on the receiver/frame.
- "Bulgarian State Arsenal, Factory 10" is identified by a "10" in a double circle logo.
- "Bulgarian State Arsenal" logo is marked on the left side of the receiver/frame.
- "Bulgarian Artillery Arsenal" was originally established in Rousse, Bulgaria circa 1878 for the Bulgarian Army.
- "Artillery Arsenal" was transferred to Sofia and became the "Sofia Artillery Arsenal" in 1891.
- "Sofia Artillery Arsenal" was moved to Kazanlak in 1924 and became the "State Military Factory".
- "State Military Factory" in Kazanlak, Bulgaria was given the code name "Factory 10" in 1948.
- "Factory 10" started production of assault rifles circa 1958.
- "Factory 10" was renamed the "United Industrial Plant Friedrich Engles" circa 1964.
- "United Industrial Plant Friedrich Engles" was known as "F. Engles Machine Building Plant" from 1977 to 1987.
- "Arsenal/Arsenal Limited/Arsenal JSCo/Arsenal 2000 JSCo" was established in 1987.
- "Arsenal 2000 JSCo "also uses the logo of a "10" in a double circle.
- "Arsenal 2000 JSCo "was privatized in 2011.

Action

- recoil operation.

Serial Number

- usually marked on the receiver/frame.

Calibre

- marked on the left side of the slide: PARABELLUM Cal. 9mm + 7.62mm TT

Shots

- detachable box magazine.

Other Markings

- NOTE: Markings found on these pistols may have been applied by the factory, exporter, importer, sales agency or the retail sales agency, and are not of specific identification value. Indeed, most of the markings on model SUPER 12 or T58 pistols are either crudely stamped, or jewellery-store type engravure.

Remarks

- NOTE 1: This firearm has slightly different features depending on where it was manufactured. As a general indication: the Bulgarian pistol, Factory 10, has a two piece pistol grip with a metal backstrap (as on the Walther model PP pistol); and generally has no safety catch.
(Pistols manufactured in Hungary, Factory 02, used a one piece grip with a swell or arch on the back; as on the Tokagypt model that does not show a metal backstrap and is usually equipped with a safety catch). However, these can only be used as identification features in 90% of the time. These two factories are known to have sub-contracted for each other at different times and even to have manufactured for each other, complete with markings as specified by the customer.
NOTE 2: This is a Soviet Military firearm design, (essentially similar to a Tokarev Model TT33) based on the J. M. Browning short recoil design as may be found on the Colt M1911: its general design is unusual in that the firing lock, comprising the trigger to the hammer, may be removed "en-bloc" for maintenance. The finish of this firearm appears to be for commercial sales, but as with many firearms currently made in the former Soviet Bloc, the finish is not equal to Western Commercial standards.

Remarks	- This firearm has slightly different features depending on where it was manufactured. As a general indication: the Hungarian pistol, Factory 02, has a one piece pistol grip with a swell or arch at the rear and no visible metal backstrap (as on the Tokagypt model pistol); and generally has a safety catch. Pistols manufactured in Bulgaria, Factory 10, used two piece grip panels showing a metal backstrap and is not usually equipped with a safety catch). However, these can only be used as identification features in 90% of the time. These two factories are known to have sub-contracted for each other at different times and even to have manufactured for each other, complete with markings as specified by the customer. - This is a Soviet Military firearm design, (essentially similar to a Tokarev Model TT33) based on the J. M. Browning short recoil design as may be found on the Colt M1911. Its general design is unusual in that the firing lock, comprising the trigger to the hammer, may be removed "en-bloc" for maintenance. The finish of this firearm appears to be for commercial sales, but as with many firearms currently made in the former Soviet Bloc, the finish is not equal to Western Commercial standards.

Notes

Make

- "TOKYO MARUI CO.LTD" is marked above "MADE IN JAPAN" on the right side of the receiver/frame above the accessory rail.

Model

- "SIG SAUER" is marked on the right grip panel.
- "P226" is marked on the left grip panel.
- "SIG SAUER P226" is marked on the left side scallop near the front of the slide.
- is marked with "ASGK U 658 921" on the right side of the receiver/frame. ASGK stands for Airsoft Gun Kai. ASGK is the industry regulatory body for airsoft and toy guns in Japan.
- resembles with near precision a genuine Sig Sauer P226 handgun.
- despite the extensive use of polymer and low grade metals throughout its construction, and despite any possible intentions of the manufacturer to design an airsoft gun to discharge only 6mm airsoft BB's, this airsoft device so closely replicates a genuine Sig Sauer P226 receiver/frame that it is readily capable of having the major pressure-bearing components (being the slide and barrel assembly) from a genuine Sig Sauer P226 installed upon it and discharging a 9mm Luger caliber cartridge.
- features include: underside accessory rail, double-action trigger; decocking mechanism located on left side of grip; black finish.

Manufacturer

- "TOKYO MARUI CO.LTD" is marked above "MADE IN JAPAN" on the right side of the receiver/frame above the accessory rail.

Canadian Law Comments

- the velocity and energy capabilities of this device in the configuration it is manufactured by Tokyo Marui are below 366 fps with a 0.2 gram 6mm airsoft BB, which is the V50 threshold for casuing serious bodily injury or death to a person. However, because this device is readily capable of accepting the pressure-bearing firearm components from a genuine Sig Sauer P226 handgun and then discharging a cartridge, this device meets the CCC S.2 definition of a "firearm", subsection 84(1) definition of "handgun" and subsection 84(1) definition of "restricted firearm".

Canadian Law Comments

- this firearm is normally Non-Restricted unless affected by the following conditions:

1) by combining a barrel from a licensed firearms manufacture that is less than 406mm (16.0") in length and a receiver/frame fitted with a pistol grip only, this firearm may be deemed a "handgun" and therefore "RESTRICTED" under the definition of "restricted firearm" in Part III/Firearms and Other Weapons of Section 84 (1) (a) of the Criminal Code of Canada.
- "handgun" means a firearm that is designed, altered or intended to be aimed and fired by the action of one hand, whether or not it has been redesigned or subsequently altered to be aimed and fired by the action of both hands.

2) "a firearm that is designed or adapted to be fired when reduced to a length of less than 660 mm by folding, telescoping or otherwise" and therefore "Restricted" under the definition of "restricted firearm" in Part III/Firearms and Other Weapons of Section 84 (1) (c) of the Criminal Code of Canada.

3) by combining a barrel that has been altered to less than 457mm (18.0") in length by a non-licensed firearms manufacturer (cottage industry, individual or gunsmith) regardless of whether the shotgun has a pistol grip or conventional stock, this firearm is "PROHIBITED" and subject to the definition of a "prohibited firearm" in Part III/Firearms and Other Weapons of Section 84 of the Criminal Code of Canada.
- "prohibited firearm" means a firearm that is adapted from a rifle or shotgun, whether by sawing, cutting or any other alteration, and that, as so adapted,
(i) is less than 660 mm in length, or
(ii) is 660mm or greater in length and has a barrel less than 457 mm in length.

Canadian Law Comments

- this firearm is normally Non-Restricted unless affected by the following conditions:

1) by combining a barrel from a licensed firearms manufacture that is less than 406mm (16.0") in length and a receiver/frame fitted with a pistol grip only, this firearm may be deemed a "handgun" and therefore "RESTRICTED" under the definition of "restricted firearm" in Part III/Firearms and Other Weapons of Section 84 (1) (a) of the Criminal Code of Canada.
- "handgun" means a firearm that is designed, altered or intended to be aimed and fired by the action of one hand, whether or not it has been redesigned or subsequently altered to be aimed and fired by the action of both hands.

2) "a firearm that is designed or adapted to be fired when reduced to a length of less than 660 mm by folding, telescoping or otherwise" and therefore "Restricted" under the definition of "restricted firearm" in Part III/Firearms and Other Weapons of Section 84 (1) (c) of the Criminal Code of Canada.

3) by combining a barrel that has been altered to less than 457mm (18.0") in length by a non-licensed firearms manufacturer (cottage industry, individual or gunsmith) regardless of whether the shotgun has a pistol grip or conventional stock, this firearm is "PROHIBITED" and subject to the definition of a "prohibited firearm" in Part III/Firearms and Other Weapons of Section 84 of the Criminal Code of Canada.
- "prohibited firearm" means a firearm that is adapted from a rifle or shotgun, whether by sawing, cutting or any other alteration, and that, as so adapted,
(i) is less than 660 mm in length, or
(ii) is 660mm or greater in length and has a barrel less than 457 mm in length.

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Model	- "Buckhunter In-Line Pistol" or a variation thereof is marked on the barrel. - model series introduced in 1995. - muzzleloading in-line percussion, removeable breech plug, thumb actuated safety mounted on left rear of receiver above left grip plate, ramrod under barrel. - available in blued steel or "C-Nickel" satin finish, walnut or black "All-Weather" finish hardwood stock. - one model version is available with 12-1/2"/318mm fluted barrel in C-Nickel satin finish with removeable muzzle break; note; overall length of this barrel with muzzle break attached is 14-3/4"/375mm - while this is the "advertised" barrel length it is not the correct length for Registration purposes - the 12-1/2"/318mm barrel length is the correct measurement.
Manufacturer	- "ARDESA" is usually not marked on the firearm. - "MADE IN SPAIN" is usually marked on the side of the barrel. - Ardesa was established in the 1980s. - Ardesa is a manufacturer located in Vizcaya, Spain. - Ardesa specializes in producing black powder / muzzle-loading firearms.
Action	- muzzle loader.
Serial Number	- serial number is marked on the firearm. - Spanish firearms manufactured pre-1995, the serial number consisted of numbers with or without a letter prefix or suffix. - Spanish firearms manufactured post-1994, the serial number consists of a two number gunmaker's/manufacture's code, a dash (-), a two number weapon's code, a dash (-), six numbers, a dash (-) and a two number year of production code. example: 14-13-087250-02.
Barrel	- this pistol is available with a fluted C-Nickel satin finish barrel which has a screw-on muzzle break attached -- note-- the barrel length for this version of the Buckhunter is advertised as being 14-3/4"/375mm long, this is not correct for Registration purposes; per Traditions, this barrel is in fact the standard 12-1/2"/318mm barrel externally threaded to accept the muzzle break.
Calibre	- calibre designation is marked on the barrel.
