Canadian Law Comments

- this firearm is normally Non-Restricted unless affected by the following conditions:

1) by combining a barrel from a licensed firearms manufacture that is less than 406mm (16.0") in length and a receiver/frame fitted with a pistol grip only, this firearm may be deemed a "handgun" and therefore "RESTRICTED" under the definition of "restricted firearm" in Part III/Firearms and Other Weapons of Section 84 (1) (a) of the Criminal Code of Canada.
- "handgun" means a firearm that is designed, altered or intended to be aimed and fired by the action of one hand, whether or not it has been redesigned or subsequently altered to be aimed and fired by the action of both hands.

2) "a firearm that is designed or adapted to be fired when reduced to a length of less than 660 mm by folding, telescoping or otherwise" and therefore "Restricted" under the definition of "restricted firearm" in Part III/Firearms and Other Weapons of Section 84 (1) (c) of the Criminal Code of Canada.

3) by combining a barrel that has been altered to less than 457mm (18.0") in length by a non-licensed firearms manufacturer (cottage industry, individual or gunsmith) regardless of whether the shotgun has a pistol grip or conventional stock, this firearm is "PROHIBITED" and subject to the definition of a "prohibited firearm" in Part III/Firearms and Other Weapons of Section 84 of the Criminal Code of Canada.
- "prohibited firearm" means a firearm that is adapted from a rifle or shotgun, whether by sawing, cutting or any other alteration, and that, as so adapted,
(i) is less than 660 mm in length, or
(ii) is 660mm or greater in length and has a barrel less than 457 mm in length.

Model

- on October 1st 1866 Oliver Winchester submitted a quantity of model 1866's to the Swiss Federal Rifle trials, in November of the same year, the Swiss government recommended the adoption of Winchester rifles for use by sharpshooters provided that some changes in the original design of the prototype were made.
- some of these changes included;
- the bore to be of Swiss calibre.
- magazine capacity of at least 13 cartridges.
- differents sights, in conformity with the order of 1863.
- these arms, indentified as the "Swiss Model 1866 Sharpshooter rifle", were made jointly in the United States and Switzerland, the receiver/frames and lockworks were built in Bridgeport, and then sent to Weber-Ruesch in Zurich for mounting with barrels and stocks.
- some keys to identify this model are as follows;
- top of barrel stamped "Weber-Ruesch-Zurich".
- Scheutzen style buttstock.
- " trigger like" release latch mounted in the upper rear bow of the lever.
- the original contract was for 200 rifles, serialized in their own number range, but it is believed that between 400 and 450 were made, as examples have been observed with serial numbers above 400.

Manufacturer

- Weber-Ruesch of Zurich was appointed to assemble the Swiss Sharpshooters rifle from receivers and lockworks received from Winchester.

Serial Number

- serialized in their own separate sequence, between 400 and 450 were made as some specimen observed with serial numbers above 400.

Notes

Model

- model designation does not appear on the firearm, in fact this is a variant of the model 1866, similar in all aspects, except for the following differences;
- the majority of these models were manufactured with iron frames in lieu of brass.
- the pivoting locking catch in the rear bow of the finger lever was eliminated in favor of a simple sliding stud mounted on the lower tang, that, when moved foward engaged an extension on the lever to lock it in place.
- some of these models were fitted with an internally mounted safety sear, similar of those found on later lever action models.
- the most noteworthy feature of this model is that some were manufactured with a rifling system designed by Oliver Winchester himself, to reduce fouling and increase muzzle velocity, Winchester proposed that the first ten or twelve inches of the barrel be smooth bored, before the rifling commenced.
- the .455 calibre version was produced for and submitted to the English rifle trials of 1868.

Manufacturer

- on top of the barrel; Winchester's Repeating-Arms.
New Haven Ct.
King's Improvement-Patented
March 29. 1866. October 16. 1860

Serial Number

- serialized in the same sequence as the model 1866.
- it is possible that some specimens were not serial numbered, or will be found with very low serial number (two, or even one numerical digit), especially the units manufactured for the military trials event.

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Model

- the model designation is marked on the barrel.
- manufactured as the model "1897" from 1897 to 1918, from 1918 to 1957 the same gun was offered as the model "97".
- total production of the models "1897" and "97" was just over 1,000,000.
- the model "1897" was available in several configurations, including Trap (1897 - 1931), Pigeon (1897 - 1939), Brush Gun (1897 - 1931), Riot Gun (1898 - 1935), Tournament (1910 - 1931) and Trench Gun (discontinued in 1935).
- features include: solid (introduced in 1897) or "takedown" (introduced in 1898) receiver/frame design; rolled steel or Damascus steel barrel (Damascus barrels were an extra cost option until they were discontinued in 1914); plain or high grade walnut buttstock (with or without a pistol grip) and forearm; exposed hammer.

Manufacturer

- the Winchester name is marked on the barrel.

Serial Number

- located on the bottom front end of the receiver/frame, on "takedown" versions the serial number is repeated on the extension.
- the serial number range starts at 34,151 (a continuation from the model 1893) and goes upwards.
- the letter prefix may be located above or in front of the serial number and represents production improvements.

Calibre

- calibre is marked on the left side of the barrel.
- the 16 Gauge was introduced in 1900 with a 2 5/8" chamber, this was changed to 2 3/4" in 1931 (by this time this model had become the model "97", many of the early firearms were subsequently converted for use with the longer shells).
- although it is believed that Winchester experimented with 20 Gauge versions no production firearms in 20 Gauge were produced.

Shots

- tubular magazine located under the barrel.

Remarks

- the model "1897" was an improved/upgraded model "1893" with several significant changes.
A) the receiver/frame was lengthened and strengthened to accommodate the longer 12 GA X 2 3/4" cartridge (the model "1893" was chambered for the 12 GA X 2 5/8" cartridge).
B) the receiver/frame had a solid top so that the fired cartridge was ejected from the side.
C) a screw was added to keep the magazine tube from rotating.
D) to open the gun a slight forward movement of the slide handle was necessary to release the action lock.
E) a cartridge guide was placed on the right side of the carrier block to prevent a cartridge from falling out during loading.
- other model "1897" firsts include; 1) chambering for the 12 GA X 2 3/4" cartridge; 2) 12 GA with solid and "Takedown" receiver/frame design; 3) chambered for 16 GA.

Model

- "Mod. 1903" is marked on top of the barrel, just ahead of the receiver. Between serial numbers 51,000 and 62,000 markings were occasionally found on the left side of the barrel. By serial number 62,000, the marking was rolled on the side on all barrels.
- the model 1903 and 03 were manufactured between 1903 and 1931/32.
- at serial numbers near 73,000, the '19" was removed from the model "1903" designation.
- available in plain or deluxe versions.

Manufacturer

- "MANUFACTURED BY THE WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS CO." and "NEW HAVEN, CONN. U.S.A. PAT. AUG.27.1901. FEB.25.1902. FEB.3.1903." or "MANUFACTURED BY THE WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS CO." and "NEW HAVEN, CONN. U.S.A. PAT. AUG.27.01. FEB.25.02. FEB.3.17. DEC.22.03" or "MADE IN U.S.A. WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS CO." and "NEW HAVEN, CONN. U.S.A. PAT. AUG.27.01. FEB.25.02. FEB.3.17. DEC.22.03" may be marked on the top of the barrel in two lines.

Action

- blowback operated.

Serial Number

- the serial number is located on the lower front of the receiver/frame.
- the serial number range for the model 1903 was from 3 to approximately 73,000.
- the serial number range for the model 03 was from approximately 73,000 to 126,211, some numbers are skipped or omitted.

Calibre

- .22 CAL. AUTOMATIC" is marked on the top of the barrel.
- this firearm was NOT offered chambered for 22 LR. It is a different rimfire cartridge with shorter case of larger diameter (only loaded with the then new "smokeless powder"), with an internally lubricated 45 grain bullet.
- this cartridge was specifically designed to prevent use of the standard 22 LR cartridge of that era (which was loaded with black powder); and which, if used, would foul the semi-automatic mechanism, and result in early failure of the firearm.
- few early experimental guns in 22 LR were made for the cartridge department for testing.

Shots

- tubular magazine mounted in buttstock.

- WINCHESTER history began on the 15th of March, 1857, when Oliver F. Winchester and John M. Davies obtained title to the entire assets of the Volcanic Repeating Arms Company of Norwich, Connecticut, U.S.A.
- Oliver F. Winchester and John F. Davies founded the "New Haven Arms Company" in New Haven, Connecticut, U.S.A. in April of 1857.
- New Haven Arms Company was renamed the Winchester Repeating Arms Company in 1866.
- Winchester Repeating Arms Company side by side shotguns were manufactured by W.C. Scott & Sons, C.G. Bonehill, W.C. McEntree, Richard Redmond, and H. & E. Hammond Gun Manufacturing between 1879 and 1885.
- Winchester Repeating Arms Company was forced into receivership and was purchase by Western Cartridge Company in December of 1931.
- Western Cartridge Company was owned by the Olin family.
- WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS COMPANY / WINCHESTER-WESTERN DIVISION produce firearms as a division of Olin (Olin family / Olin Industries, Incorporated / Olin Mathieson Chemical Industries / Olin Corporation) until 1981.
- Winchester's corporation and division name changes between 1931 and 1991 are as follows:
- "Winchester Repeating Arms Company" from December 22, 1931 to December 31, 1938.
- "Winchester Repeating Arms Company A Division of Western Cartridge Company" from December 31, 1938 to December 30, 1944.
- "Winchester Repeating Arms Company A Division of Olin Industries, Incorporated" from December 30, 1944 to January, 1952.
- "Winchester-Western Division" of Olin Industries, Incorporated from January 1952 to August 31, 1954.
- "Winchester-Western Division" of Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation from August 31, 1954 to September 1, 1969.
- "Winchester-Western Division" of Olin Corporation from August 31, 1954 to July 21, 1981.
- Winchester-Western Division also had a manufacturing facility in Cobourg, Ontario, Canada at the former Cooey factory, which was known as Winchester (Canada) Limited.
- WINCHESTER-WESTERN sold its firearms division to U.S. Repeating Arms Company in 1981.
- WINCHESTER trademark has been licensed by Olin to numerous manufacturers and marketing companies.
- WINCHESTER firearms were manufactured by U.S. Repeating Arms Company from 1981 to 2006.
- WINCHESTER firearms were manufactured at the Olin-Kodensha facility in Tochigi, Japan until 1989.
- WINCHESTER firearms have been manufactured by Miroku Firearms Manufacturing of Japan since 1992.
- WINCHESTER over & under shotguns have been manufactured by Fabrique Nationale Herstal (FN) of Belgium since 2004.

Model

- "Model 21" is marked on the watertable or on the left side of the barrels.
- introduced in 1931 with regular production ending in 1959. Offered as a custom shop item between 1960 and 1981, when Winchester was sold to U.S. Repeating Arms who continued production on a limited basis.
- by January 1980, over 33,000 Model 21 shotguns had been built.
- the model 21 was available in several different grades. Grade stampings on regular production guns were usually done by hand on the trigger guard plate. Custom built guns usually had the grade stamping on the centre rib.
- features include: boxlock action; the receiver/frame will have any number of finishes or engraving patterns; single or double triggers; extractors or ejectors; automatic or manual safety; tang mounted opening lever; raised or solid centre rib.
- any number of custom features were available on the model 21, receiver/frames and barrels could be ordered with lightening cuts; stocks and forends were built to customer specifications on request; gold inlays and custom or presentation engraving patterns were offered; and several different sight options were offered.

Manufacturer

- the model 21 was produced as a regular Winchester production gun from 1930 to 1959. In 1960 the model 21 was produced in the Winchester custom shop. U.S. Repeating Arms took over production of the model 21 in 1981 when they purchased Winchester.
- the vast majority of regular production units are marked " MADE IN U.S.A. Model 21" over "WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS CO." over "NEW HAVEN, CONN" on the water table. Samples produced prior to 1933 have only a Winchester proof marking.
- units produced by the Winchester custom shop are usually marked "CUSTOM MADE BY WINCHESTER" or "CUSTOM MADE BY WINCHESTER FOR (customers name)" on the centre rib.
- units produced by U.S. Repeating Arms were marked "CUSTOM MADE WINCHESTER" on the centre rib.

Action

- side by side barrel configuration, hinged barrel design.

Serial Number

- serial number is located on the upper tang.
- in 1969 Winchester added a "W" prefix to the serial number.
- NOTE: the following numbers marked on the watertable are not serial numbers, they are U.S.A. patent numbers, these numbers are 1785764 and 1785785 and 1797320 and 1816312 and 186313.

Other Markings

- a variety of markings will be found on the water table. The style of marking is an indicator of when a receiver/frame was manufactured, not when a complete firearm was assembled as it is known that some receiver/frames were not assembled until many years after it was produced.
- early units (1931 -1933) have only a Winchester proof mark on the water table.
- between 1933 and 1941 water tables are marked;

U.S.A PATENTS
1785764 1797320 1816312
1785765 1816313

MADE IN U.S.A MODEL 21
WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS CO.
NEW HAVEN, CONN.

- after 1941 the patent numbers were no longer marked on the water table.
- firearms produced with lightened receiver/frames have the water table machined to reduce weight and do not have markings.
- the top or sides of the barrels (standard production) will also have a variety of markings;
- right barrel of early units are usually marked (sample is for 12 GA);

MODEL 21------- WINCHESTER------12 GAUGE
TRADE MARK

- left barrel is usually marked:

MADE IN U.S.A. WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS CO.
-------NEW HAVEN,CONN.-------PATENTS PENDING-------

- in 1933 barrel markings were changed to "WINCHESTER------ 12 GAUGE"
- circa 1937 barrel markings were changed to "WINCHESTER ----- 12 GAUGE" over the chamber length.
- in 1945 barrel markings were again changed to;

WINCHESTER
MODEL 21---- ----12 GAUGE 2 3/4
----- TRADE MARK-----

- the barrel flats will also be marked with the serial number, patent information, choke restrictions and proof marks.

Notes

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Make	- "Winchester" is usually marked on the receiver/frame and on the barrel. - WINCHESTER history began on the 15th of March, 1857, when Oliver F. Winchester and John M. Davies obtained title to the entire assets of the Volcanic Repeating Arms Company of Norwich, Connecticut, U.S.A. - Oliver F. Winchester and John F. Davies founded the "New Haven Arms Company" in New Haven, Connecticut, U.S.A. in April of 1857. - New Haven Arms Company was renamed the Winchester Repeating Arms Company in 1866. - Winchester Repeating Arms Company side by side shotguns were manufactured by W.C. Scott & Sons, C.G. Bonehill, W.C. McEntree, Richard Redmond, and H. & E. Hammond Gun Manufacturing between 1879 and 1885. - Winchester Repeating Arms Company was forced into receivership and was purchase by Western Cartridge Company in December of 1931. - Western Cartridge Company was owned by the Olin family. - WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS COMPANY / WINCHESTER-WESTERN DIVISION produce firearms as a division of Olin (Olin family / Olin Industries, Incorporated / Olin Mathieson Chemical Industries / Olin Corporation) until 1981. - Winchester's corporation and division name changes between 1931 and 1991 are as follows: - "Winchester Repeating Arms Company" from December 22, 1931 to December 31, 1938. - "Winchester Repeating Arms Company A Division of Western Cartridge Company" from December 31, 1938 to December 30, 1944. - "Winchester Repeating Arms Company A Division of Olin Industries, Incorporated" from December 30, 1944 to January, 1952. - "Winchester-Western Division" of Olin Industries, Incorporated from January 1952 to August 31, 1954. - "Winchester-Western Division" of Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation from August 31, 1954 to September 1, 1969. - "Winchester-Western Division" of Olin Corporation from August 31, 1954 to July 21, 1981. - Winchester-Western Division also had a manufacturing facility in Cobourg, Ontario, Canada at the former Cooey factory, which was known as Winchester (Canada) Limited. - WINCHESTER-WESTERN sold its firearms division to U.S. Repeating Arms Company in 1981. - WINCHESTER trademark has been licensed by Olin to numerous manufacturers and marketing companies. - WINCHESTER firearms were manufactured by U.S. Repeating Arms Company from 1981 to 2006. - WINCHESTER firearms were manufactured at the Olin-Kodensha facility in Tochigi, Japan until 1989. - WINCHESTER firearms have been manufactured by Miroku Firearms Manufacturing of Japan since 1992. - WINCHESTER over & under shotguns have been manufactured by Fabrique Nationale Herstal (FN) of Belgium since 2004. - WINCHESTER model 70 rifles have been manufactured by Fabrique Nationale Manufacturing Incorporated (FNMI) of Columbia, South Carolina, U.S.A. since 2008. - the Winchester tradename is currently controlled by the Olin Corporation and due to its popularity is licenced for use worldwide by Companhia Brasileira de Cartuchos (CBC), Hatsan Arms, Laurona Armas, Marocchi, Mayer & Grammelspacher Dianawerk, Tulski Oruzheiny Zavod (TOZ), Yildiz, and others.
Model	- "Model 70" is marked on the barrel. - the "Model 70" was manufactured by "U.S. Repeating Arms" starting in 1981. - this is a generic record for the "Model 70" rifle, other records exists which may more accurately identify the sample being examined. - features include: two types of extractors, Classic Models / Control Round Feed (CFR) having the pre-1964, Mauser 98 style extractor, Push Feed Models / Controlled Round Push Feed (CRPF) having a small extractor in the bolt head; three position safety mounted on the bolt shroud; stainless and blue metal finishes; laminated, walnut, and synthetic stocks in many styles and finishes.
Manufacturer	- "U.S. Repeating Arms Company" may be marked on the butt plate. - this "Model 70" is not to be confused with the same "Model 70" that was manufactured by Winchester. - the "Model 70s" manufactured by "Winchester" normally have a serial number which consists of one to six numerical characters or which has a "D or G" prefix or a suffix of "X". - the "Model 70" as manufactured by "Winchester" which have a "G" prefix should have a serial number less than "G1525323". - the "Model 70" as manufactured by "U.S. Repeating Arms Company, Inc." should have a serial number greater than "G1525323".
Action	- turn bolt design.
Serial Number	- the serial number is marked on the right side of the receiver ring. - the serial number may have a letter "G" prefix followed by sequential numbers. - the serial number range for Winchester model 70s manufactured by U.S. Repeating Arms Company started at G1537135. - special edition model 70s may have a different letter prefix, example: "ANV"
Calibre	- calibre is marked on the barrel.
Shots	- may be contained in a blind-floor, hinged floorplate or detachable box magazine format.
Remarks	- this is a generic entry, other Model 70 entries exist that may better identify specific models.

Remarks

- this model is referred to as "Classic" because it uses a controlled method of feeding a cartridge as seen in the original Mauser 98 action as opposed to a "push" type of feeding arrangement.
- this type of controlled feeding when present in a Winchester model is often referred to as a "Pre-64 Type" action.
