Other Markings

- UPPER TANG markings:
- "Model 92" and "- Winchester -" and "Trade Mark Reg. in U.S. Pat. Off. & Fgn.", or
- "Winchester" and "- Trade Mark -" and "- Made in U.S.A.", or
- "Reg. in U.S. Pat. Off." and "- Winchester -" and "- Trade Mark -".

BARREL markings:
- "Manufactured by the Winchester Repeating Arms Co." and "- New Haven. Conn. U.S.A. Patented October 14. 1884 -", or
- "Made in New Haven, Conn. U.S. of America" and "- Winchester Proof Steel -", or
- "- Winchester -" and "- Trade Mark -", or
- " -Model 92 - 44 W.C.F.(calibre)-", or
- "Nickel Steel Barrel" and "Especially for Smokeless Powder", or
- "Stainless Steel Barrel" and "Especially for Smokeless Powder".

Remarks

- some of the 44-40 WCF saddle-ring carbine variations of this rifle were subsequently re-worked by a South American police force to fire the 45 AUTO cartridge; these rifles can be identified by their extremely short (14"/400mm) barrels, and by the police property-stamp on the left side of the receiver/frame. The example seen reads "POLICIA Prov. SANTA FE CAL 45 Reformo OTME-CBA. (RA)", under a police-assigned property number. The original caliber markings (44 WCF) on the barrel remain unchanged.

Make

- "WINCHESTER" was observed marked on the left side of the barrel and on the upper rear tang.
- WINCHESTER history began on the 15th of March, 1857, when Oliver F. Winchester and John M. Davies obtained title to the entire assets of the Volcanic Repeating Arms Company of Norwich, Connecticut, U.S.A.
- Oliver F. Winchester and John F. Davies founded the "New Haven Arms Company" in New Haven, Connecticut, U.S.A. in April of 1857.
- New Haven Arms Company was renamed the Winchester Repeating Arms Company in 1866.
- Winchester Repeating Arms Company side by side shotguns were manufactured by W.C. Scott & Sons, C.G. Bonehill, W.C. McEntree, Richard Redmond, and H. & E. Hammond Gun Manufacturing between 1879 and 1885.
- Winchester Repeating Arms Company was forced into receivership and was purchase by Western Cartridge Company in December of 1931.
- Western Cartridge Company was owned by the Olin family.
- WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS COMPANY / WINCHESTER-WESTERN DIVISION produce firearms as a division of Olin (Olin family / Olin Industries, Incorporated / Olin Mathieson Chemical Industries / Olin Corporation) until 1981.
- Winchester's corporation and division name changes between 1931 and 1991 are as follows:
- "Winchester Repeating Arms Company" from December 22, 1931 to December 31, 1938.
- "Winchester Repeating Arms Company A Division of Western Cartridge Company" from December 31, 1938 to December 30, 1944.
- "Winchester Repeating Arms Company A Division of Olin Industries, Incorporated" from December 30, 1944 to January, 1952.
- "Winchester-Western Division" of Olin Industries, Incorporated from January 1952 to August 31, 1954.
- "Winchester-Western Division" of Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation from August 31, 1954 to September 1, 1969.
- "Winchester-Western Division" of Olin Corporation from August 31, 1954 to July 21, 1981.

Make

- WINCHESTER history began on the 15th of March, 1857, when Oliver F. Winchester and John M. Davies obtained title to the entire assets of the Volcanic Repeating Arms Company of Norwich, Connecticut, U.S.A.
- Oliver F. Winchester and John F. Davies founded the "New Haven Arms Company" in New Haven, Connecticut, U.S.A. in April of 1857.
- New Haven Arms Company was renamed the Winchester Repeating Arms Company in 1866.
- Winchester Repeating Arms Company side by side shotguns were manufactured by W.C. Scott & Sons, C.G. Bonehill, W.C. McEntree, Richard Redmond, and H. & E. Hammond Gun Manufacturing between 1879 and 1885.
- Winchester Repeating Arms Company was forced into receivership and was purchase by Western Cartridge Company in December of 1931.
- Western Cartridge Company was owned by the Olin family.
- WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS COMPANY / WINCHESTER-WESTERN DIVISION produce firearms as a division of Olin (Olin family / Olin Industries, Incorporated / Olin Mathieson Chemical Industries / Olin Corporation) until 1981.
- Winchester's corporation and division name changes between 1931 and 1991 are as follows:
- "Winchester Repeating Arms Company" from December 22, 1931 to December 31, 1938.
- "Winchester Repeating Arms Company A Division of Western Cartridge Company" from December 31, 1938 to December 30, 1944.
- "Winchester Repeating Arms Company A Division of Olin Industries, Incorporated" from December 30, 1944 to January, 1952.
- "Winchester-Western Division" of Olin Industries, Incorporated from January 1952 to August 31, 1954.
- "Winchester-Western Division" of Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation from August 31, 1954 to September 1, 1969.
- "Winchester-Western Division" of Olin Corporation from August 31, 1954 to July 21, 1981.
- Winchester-Western Division also had a manufacturing facility in Cobourg, Ontario, Canada at the former Cooey factory, which was known as Winchester (Canada) Limited.
- WINCHESTER-WESTERN sold its firearms division to U.S. Repeating Arms Company in 1981.
- WINCHESTER trademark has been licensed by Olin to numerous manufacturers and marketing companies.
- WINCHESTER firearms were manufactured by U.S. Repeating Arms Company from 1981 to 2006.
- WINCHESTER firearms were manufactured at the Olin-Kodensha facility in Tochigi, Japan until 1989.
- WINCHESTER firearms have been manufactured by Miroku Firearms Manufacturing of Japan since 1992.
- WINCHESTER over & under shotguns have been manufactured by Fabrique Nationale Herstal (FN) of Belgium since 2004.
- WINCHESTER model 70 rifles have been manufactured by Fabrique Nationale Manufacturing Incorporated (FNMI) of Columbia, South Carolina, U.S.A. since 2008.
- the Winchester tradename is currently controlled by the Olin Corporation and due to its popularity is licenced for use worldwide by Companhia Brasileira de Cartuchos (CBC), Hatsan Arms, Laurona Armas, Marocchi, Mayer & Grammelspacher Dianawerk, Tulski Oruzheiny Zavod (TOZ), Yildiz, and others.

Model

- "AE" in the Winchester's model designation was first used in 1983 to indicate an angle eject receiver/frame.
- "XTR" in the Winchester's model designations was first used in 1978 to indicate an upgraded model.
- "XTR" in the model designations was dropped in 1989.
- DO NOT CONFUSE this record with that of the 94AE; the 94AE Big Bore has a strengthened receiver with "bulges" at the rear of the receiver, over the locking lugs, while the 94AE has flat receiver sides.

Manufacturer

- manufacturer's name is found on the butt-plate or recoil pad in very small print.

Action

- new style angle/side ejection of cartridge case. Rear portion of receiver is widened to strengthen receiver for more powerful/intense cartridges. A cross-bolt hammer block safety was added to this model in 1992.

Serial Number

- some early examples of this model have the serial number prefixed with AE, however, most examples have a numbered serial number located on the left, bottom of the receiver.

Model	- "MODEL 97" is marked on the barrel. - manufactured as the model "1897" from 1897 to 1918. - manufactured as the model "97" from 1918 to 1957. - total production of the models "1897" and "97" was just over 1,000,000. - the model "97" was available in several configurations, including Trap (1918 - 1931), Pigeon (1918 - 1939), Brush Gun (1918 - 1931), Riot Gun (1918 - 1935), Tournament (1918 - 1931) and Trench Gun (discontinued in 1935). - features include: solid or "takedown" receiver/frame design; rolled steel ; plain or high grade walnut buttstock (with or without a pistol grip) and forearm; exposed hammer.
Manufacturer	- the "WINCHESTER" trade name is marked on the left side of the barrel. - "Winchester Repeating Arms Co." is marked on the right side of the barrel.
Serial Number	- the serial number is located on the bottom front end of the receiver/frame, on "takedown" versions the serial number is repeated on the extension. - the serial number range for the models "1897" and "97" starts at 34,151 (a continuation from the model 1893) and goes upwards.
Calibre	- the calibre and chamber length are marked on the left side of the barrel. - when the model "1897" became the model "97" in 1918 the 16 Gauge was still in production with a 2 5/8" chamber, this was changed to 2 3/4" in 1931 (many of the early guns were subsequently converted for use with the longer shells). The 16 Gauge was last offered in 1950. - although it is believed that Winchester experimented with 20 Gauge versions no production guns in 20 Gauge were produced.
Shots	- tubular magazine located under the barrel. - a Presidential Proclamation signed on February 2, 1935 limited the shot capacity of any repeating shotgun used for hunting migratory birds to a total capacity of three shells (two in the magazine and one in the chamber), as such Winchester included a wooden plug with each shotgun sold to reduce the magazine capacity to two cartridges.
Other Markings	- as this model was made over a 39 year period markings will vary. Some barrels will be marked with patent information, manufacturer information, calibre information and model designation. Others may have any combination of the noted markings.

Notes

Make

- the make may not be marked on the firearm.

Model

- less than 600 produced in total.
- a Winchester designed military rifle based on the Enfield Pattern 1914 (P 14), manufactured in 1916-17, with commercial sales to foreign governments in mind. The Russian government purchased 500 of these rifles in early 1917.
- closely resembles an Enfield Pattern 1914 but has a Mauser type "wing safety" on the bolt, receiver mounted rear sight but lacks the sight protective ears and also lacks the pronounced magazine "belly" of the P-14's stock. The pistol grip of the Winchester D Military rifle closely resembles that found on Canadian Ross military rifles.
- a rarely encountered rifle that may be easily mistaken for an Enfield pattern 1914 or a US Rifle Model 1917.

Manufacturer

- the manufacture's name may not be marked on the firearm.

Action

- turn bolt design.

Make	- "WINCHESTER" trade name may be marked on the barrel and buttplate. - "Manufactured by the Winchester Repeating Arms Co." is also marked on the barrel. - WINCHESTER history began on the 15th of March, 1857, when Oliver F. Winchester and John M. Davies obtained title to the entire assets of the Volcanic Repeating Arms Company of Norwich, Connecticut, U.S.A. - Oliver F. Winchester and John F. Davies founded the "New Haven Arms Company" in New Haven, Connecticut, U.S.A. in April of 1857. - New Haven Arms Company was renamed the Winchester Repeating Arms Company in 1866. - Winchester Repeating Arms Company side by side shotguns were manufactured by W.C. Scott & Sons, C.G. Bonehill, W.C. McEntree, Richard Redmond, and H. & E. Hammond Gun Manufacturing between 1879 and 1885. - Winchester Repeating Arms Company was forced into receivership and was purchase by Western Cartridge Company in December of 1931. - Western Cartridge Company was owned by the Olin family. - WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS COMPANY / WINCHESTER-WESTERN DIVISION produce firearms as a division of Olin (Olin family / Olin Industries, Incorporated / Olin Mathieson Chemical Industries / Olin Corporation) until 1981. - Winchester's corporation and division name changes between 1931 and 1991 are as follows: - "Winchester Repeating Arms Company" from December 22, 1931 to December 31, 1938. - "Winchester Repeating Arms Company A Division of Western Cartridge Company" from December 31, 1938 to December 30, 1944. - "Winchester Repeating Arms Company A Division of Olin Industries, Incorporated" from December 30, 1944 to January, 1952. - "Winchester-Western Division" of Olin Industries, Incorporated from January 1952 to August 31, 1954. - "Winchester-Western Division" of Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation from August 31, 1954 to September 1, 1969. - "Winchester-Western Division" of Olin Corporation from August 31, 1954 to July 21, 1981. - Winchester-Western Division also had a manufacturing facility in Cobourg, Ontario, Canada at the former Cooey factory, which was known as Winchester (Canada) Limited. - WINCHESTER-WESTERN sold its firearms division to U.S. Repeating Arms Company in 1981. - WINCHESTER trademark has been licensed by Olin to numerous manufacturers and marketing companies. - WINCHESTER firearms were manufactured by U.S. Repeating Arms Company from 1981 to 2006. - WINCHESTER firearms were manufactured at the Olin-Kodensha facility in Tochigi, Japan until 1989. - WINCHESTER firearms have been manufactured by Miroku Firearms Manufacturing of Japan since 1992. - WINCHESTER over & under shotguns have been manufactured by Fabrique Nationale Herstal (FN) of Belgium since 2004. - WINCHESTER model 70 rifles have been manufactured by Fabrique Nationale Manufacturing Incorporated (FNMI) of Columbia, South Carolina, U.S.A. since 2008. - the Winchester tradename is currently controlled by the Olin Corporation and due to its popularity is licenced for use worldwide by Companhia Brasileira de Cartuchos (CBC), Hatsan Arms, Laurona Armas, Marocchi, Mayer & Grammelspacher Dianawerk, Tulski Oruzheiny Zavod (TOZ), Yildiz, and others.
Model	- "THUMB TRIGGER MODEL" is marked on the barrel. - manufactured from 1904 to 1923. - approximately 75,433 copies were made. - features include: - a "thumb trigger" rather than a conventional trigger arrangement whereby the trigger is a knurled knob directly behind the cocking piece of the bolt which is depressed rather than squeezed rearward; - rebounding firing pin; - gum wood shotgun-style buttstock with a a straight grip and composite material buttplate; - take-down mechanism for storage/transport; - this firearm has a very unique profile in that it lacks a trigger and trigger guard loop that would normally be mounted on the underside of the stock.
Manufacturer	- the "WINCHESTER" trade name may be marked on the barrel and buttplate. - "Manufactured by the Winchester Repeating Arms Co. New Haven, Conn. U.S.A." is also marked on the barrel.
Action	- turn bolt action.
Serial Number	- this model was not factory serialized.
Calibre	- early production firearms were chambered for 22 Short and 22 Long interchangeably and were marked as such. - beginning in 1914, production switched to a 22 Extra Long RF chamber that also permitted the use of 22 Short and 22 Long.

Firearms Reference Table, National Specialized Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police. All rights reserved, RCMP, 1998-2026.

Other Markings

- barrels may be marked:
MANUFACTURED BY THE WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS CO.
NEW HAVEN, CONN, U.S.A. PAT. AUG 29, 1899.
- later production may have an amended second line stating either
PAT. PEND. or
PAT. AUG. 29, 99. FEB. 14. 1905.
- also marked on the barrel may be :
THUMB TRIGGER MODEL - WINCHESTER
.22 SHORT AND LONG - TRADEMARK
- alternative barrel markings amended the above second line as follows:
.22 SHORT, LONG, OR EX. LONG -TRADEMARK REG IN U.S. PAT. OFF.

Remarks

- this rifle was built using the Winchester 1900 and 1902 model actions.
- markings may vary over the production span, although the defining characteristic of a thumb trigger mechanism remained consistent over this model's production.
